Some 600 baseball fans were in line at Yankee Stadium at 1 a.m. today to buy bleacher seats for the first game of the Series.

Bleacher seats went on sale five hours before the start of the game. Many in the line carried wooden boxes to sit on during their long wait. Two 16-year-old New Yorkers, Philip Cowen and Barry Schwartz, brought a folding bed on which to relax.

Stengel, who had expected to come back with another left-hander, Bobby Shantz, in the second game, appeared uncertain after Tuesday's workout.

"I'm not so sure left-handers are a better bet than right-handers against Milwaukee," Casey said. "My Thursday pitcher depends upon what happens to 1-2 Wednesday pitcher. If the Braves should treat Ford a little too roughly, I'll probably give them Bob Turley (a right-hander). If Whitey does a commendable job, it will be Shantz."

Haney has no doubt regarding his starters, although he insisted after the Braves' workout he was prepared to use everybody in every game. You can be sure that it will be Lew Burdette Thursday and Bob Buhl Saturday in Milwaukee. Then the merry-go-round starts again with Spahn, Burdette and Buhl in that order.

If the series goes into the seventh and final game, you can look for Spahn to make his third starting appearance next Thursday in Yankee Stadium, unless he has to be used in relief before that.

"Barring the unforeseen," Haney said, "I plan to go with three pitchers all through the series, with the others all to be used in relief, in the bullpen. That does not mean that I'd hesitate to use either Spahn or Burdette in relief, if the occasion calls for it."

Carl Hubbell, the old New York Giants' southpaw, picks pitcher Gene Conley as the potential star of the Series. "He is particularly effective against a club the first time they see him. With those long arms and legs you don't know where the pitch is coming from," he said.

Haney hasn't let the pressure dissipate his sense of humor. Told that Casey Stengel was worried about the physical condition of Mickey Mantle and Moose Skowron, he laughed: "Tell Casey that I'll let him add two players if either of those guys is out."

Milwaukee second baseman Red Schoendienst said his aging legs are all set to carry him through the series. "They're all taped up like a race horse," he laughed, "but I still can run."

Milwaukee's big first baseman, Joe Adcock, thinks there will be few home runs, that neither club has a decisive edge.

Yank infielder - outfielder Joe Collins usually wears tape around his right wrist. Asked what was wrong, he cracked: "Nothing. It just looks good."

Said Whitey Ford when asked if he'd like to pitch three games: "I'd like it better if four Yankee pitchers have one start each and then we all go home."

U. S. Spending Runs Higher Than Estimate

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's record peacetime budget has grown to $72 billion, but the administration hopes to reduce spending to $70 billion in the year ending June 30, 1959.

Budget Director Percival F. Brundage announced the economy target for next year after issuing his midyear review Tuesday. It showed estimated spending for this year up by $200 million from Eisenhower's January estimate, and the prospective surplus down by $30 million to $1½ billion.

Those figures, covering the 1951 fiscal year that started July 1, would not justify tax reduction, Brundage reported, but he added the following year may be better, fiscally speaking.

If enough savings are achieved and the personal income of Americans continues to rise as expected, Brundage said, Congress could consider tax relief next spring, although not to take effect until mid-year or thereafter.

"I am hoping we can hold the 1959 budget to $70 billion dollars," he told a news conference. "I don't exactly expect that, but I think every member of the administration is doing his level best."

President Leads U. S. in Prayer Day

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower led Americans today in a National Day of Prayer, at a service which put implied emphasis on racial integration.

The President attended a special 8:30 a.m. prayer meeting at the National Presbyterian Church. He is a member of that church.

The service was held in observance of a National Day of Prayer proclaimed by Eisenhower himself last Aug. 8 under a 1952 act of Congress. The proclamation had called on Americans to "unite in prayer and meditation."

Newest Air Force Computer Does Full Navigation Job

BALTIMORE — The Air Force today took the wraps off a mechanical navigator which can plot a course anywhere on the globe, compute the speed and drift of the airplane and signal when the destination is reached.

The Air Research and Development Command actually disclosed the details of six Doppler Radar self-contained aircraft navigation systems. At the same time, it told about an airborne north-seeking gyro compass which is the principal component of the systems.

"So accurate is the Doppler navigation system that after a 1,000-mile flight, an aircraft will arrive within a circle 12 miles in diameter around the destination," the ARDC said.

The systems have been and are being built now, ARDC added, and are the result of a project started in 1945 at its Wright Air Development Command in Dayton, Ohio.

The six systems described range from a compact unit weighing only 110 pounds to a giant of 725 pounds which takes up 27.5 cubic feet of space. They have been designed for use in virtually any Air Force plane, from helicopters to the biggest bombers.

The Doppler Radar systems use a principle discovered in 1842 by the Austrian physicist Christian Doppler.

Thug Blames Dead Pal for Cop-Killings

SCOTTSBURG, Ind. — A gunman who insisted his dead companion fired the shots that killed two policemen in two states faces a charge of murder today.

Victor Wayne Whitley, 26, Granger, Tex., was bound over to the Scott Circuit Court by Justice of Peace O. E. Hedrick late Tuesday and taken to the Clark County jail in Jeffersonville. He was ordered held without bail.

State police said Whitley told them that Ralph Walker Taylor, 36, Kenova, W. Va., fired the shots that killed State Troopers Dugald A. Pellot, 23, Clinton, Mich., and William Kellems, 27, Scottsburg.

Taylor died Monday night in an exchange of gunfire with Lester Kenen, 38, North Vernon patrolman, as Taylor and Whitley fled from a police roadblock set up at Vernon after Kellems was slain.

The killing of Taylor and cornering of Whitley ended a four-month robbery spree by the two gunmen. Taylor was a convicted rapist and parole violator from West Virginia, but police said Whitley had no previous record of a major crime.

Whitley told of a series of 21 armed robberies from Delaware to Texas but said he and Taylor never were forced to fire their guns until Monday, when Trooper Douglas A. Vogel stopped them in a traffic check near Clinton.

GI's Japanese Wife May Be Witness

MAEBASHI, Japan — Japanese government prosecutors said today they might ask William S. Girard's Japanese wife to testify in the GI's manslaughter trial if the defense doesn't.

Girard's Japanese lawyer has ordered Mrs. Haru "Candy" Girard to stay out of court. He said the Japanese public disapproved of their marrying while the Ottawa, Ill., soldier was under indictment for the fatal shooting of a Japanese woman collecting scrap brass on a firing range.

Japanese law, however, obligates the prosecution to present all pertinent facts even if they do not support the government's case.

Worker Survives 300-Degree Bath

DALLAS — Carl W. Ely, 42, fell into a vat of 300-degree oil as he and Durrell Pierce, 23, were taking a piece of hot steel from a furnace at a heat treatment plant.

Ely went completely under, except for one hand with which he gripped the edge of the vat. Pierce quickly grabbed the hand and pulled him out.

Doctors said Ely was seriously burned, but said his clothing and Pierce's quick action saved him from more serious burns and possible death.

When two beams are used, angled forward to the right and left of the plane, the readings are compared automatically and give not only the plane's true speed over the ground but show wind drift—the sideways slippage of the plane from action of the wind.

A navigator has only to put into the computer the latitude and longitude of the plane at the start of the flight and the same information for the destination.

Once the plane is airborne, the computer takes the information supplied by the Doppler Radar and the compass, computes its present position and the course it must fly to reach the destination. It also computes the distance to be traveled. This information is presented on dials for the pilot's guidance or can be fed into an automatic pilot which flies the airplane to its destination.

The pilot need keep only one indicator arrow pointed straight up to stay on his computed course. When he reaches his destination, a light glows to signal the trip's end.

2 Big Coffee Firms Trim Prices Again

NEW YORK — Two leading coffee roasters today cut prices two to three cents a pound on the wholesale level.

General Foods Corp. reduced its grocery pack regular ground Maxwell House and Sanka coffees three cents a pound and its regular ground Yuban and Bliss coffees two cents a pound.

Standard Brands Inc. dropped the wholesale price of its regular ground Chase & Sanborn coffee three cents a pound.

The last price cut was Sept. 11. At that time, the reduction was attributed in part to a drop in prices of Colombian coffee. No reason was given for today's announcements.

Howard Freed's
Are Victims of Murder-Suicide

JAMESTOWN — (Special) — A 27 year marriage that began as a childhood romance ended in tragedy here when Howard Freed, 46, shot his wife, Lucille, 45, and then took his own life at the couple's home.

The bodies were discovered in the couple's three-room apartment on Jamestown's main street (Route 35) about 6:30 p. m. Tuesday by Robert Greene of Jamestown, Mrs. Freed's brother-in-law, who came to pay a casual call. Dr. Hugh C. Schick, Greene County Coroner, returned the murder-suicide verdict and said they died about 10 a. m. Tuesday.

Jamestown Police Chief Howard Wright, a lifelong friend of both Mr. and Mrs. Freed, said that Mr. Freed had been in ill health lately, and that that was the only explanation he could give for the murder-suicide.

He said he knew of no rift in the couple's long relationship.

They had no children.

DESPITE the fact that the Freed's apartment is located in a busy downtown district, no one reported hearing any of the three shots that were fired from Freed's .45 calibre automatic pistol.

Mrs. Freed's mother, Mrs. Della Glover, formerly of Fayette County, said she saw Mr. Freed from the back window of her home as he stood on the back porch of his own home "doing something with the gun" about 10 a. m.

That was the last time they were seen until Greene found the bodies. Greene said he went to the back door of the home at 6:30, knocked, and, getting no response, entered through the unlocked back door.

FREED'S BODY was sprawled on the kitchen floor with a bullet hole between mouth and nose. The pistol was lying about five inches from his hand.

Greene said he rushed into the next room shouting "Lucille! Lucille!"

He found her body lying face up across one of the twin beds in the bedroom. She had been shot through the head, too.

A third shell from the military.

Federal Road Chief Lauds Ohio Planning

COLUMBUS — Ohio, contrary to some recent criticism, is doing "very well" in planning its highway construction program, says Bertrand D. Tallamy, the nation's highway chief.

Tallamy met here Tuesday with Ohio Highway Chief Charles M. Noble for a discussion of federal highway administration.

Critics in some quarters have claimed that Noble is using unnecessarily high standards on the Cincinnati-Conneaut Freeway. His critics say unnecessarily gentle curves and grades and wide median strips on the Freeway will bring the cost of the roadway higher than it ought to be.

Worker Hurt in Fall Into City Water Tank

UPPER SANDUSKY — Rescuers worked 45 minutes Tuesday to remove Richard Allen, 21, from a huge city water tank where he was injured seriously in a fall.

Allen, of Rockford, Ill., was employed by the Spellman Elevated Tank Service Co. of Rockford in cleaning city water tanks when he fell 25 feet from a scaffolding inside the tank.

Looks Confident, All Right

APPEARING SUPREMELY CONFIDENT, James Hoffa gives a wave and a grin from stage of Teamsters convention in Miami Beach, Fla. Behind him smiles the facsimile of Dave Beck, the man he expects to succeed to presidency.

Opponents Battle Hoffa Steamroller

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Three opponents battled desperately today to stem a steamroller which appeared to be sweeping James R. Hoffa of Detroit toward the presidency of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

In a swirling, slambang battle for delegate votes, Hoffa picked up endorsements from the New England Conference, the Eastern Conference and the Los Angeles Joint Council of Teamsters in his campaign to succeed retiring President Dave Beck.

International Vice President Elmer Mohn, formerly of Los Angeles and now Beck's administrative assistant, made his first public move in the massive battle for power as he spearheaded the drive to win the Los Angeles delegates over to the Midwest Teamster boss.

General Secretary John F. English, a veteran and powerful Teamster figure, was prominent in the action of the New England Conference in Hoffa's favor.

But anti-Hoffa forces were still active, aggressive and asserting confidence. A spokesman said the Maryland and Washington, D. C., delegates declined to endorse Hoffa and that Virginia and Carolina delegates may follow suit.

INTERNATIONAL Vice President William A. Lee of Chicago was given a vote of confidence by the National Bakeries Drivers Conference, but not an endorsement.

Efforts to form a coalition of forces between Lee, Vice President Thomas L. Hickey of New York and Thomas J. Haggerty, Chicago milk truck drivers official, continued.

Haggerty Tuesday night declared that the determination of the three Hoffa foes to "go down to the wire" means that their separate strength will be sufficient to prevent Hoffa's election.

But the scrapping Midwest Teamster boss, target of charges of racketeering and misuse of union funds, ridiculed his opponents.

And he showed his strength by turning into a personal ovation a demonstration over the refusal by Chief Justice Earl Warren of the U. S. Supreme Court to halt Teamster elections.

Warren Tuesday refused to disturb a Circuit Court of Appeals decree setting aside a temporary injunction by Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts which would have prevented the Teamsters from electing new officers at their convention here this week.

When Beck announced to the convention news of Warren's decision, delegates jumped to their feet shouting and hurling scraps of paper into the air.

Hoffa suddenly appeared on the rostrum and raised Beck's hand in the traditional prize ring signal of victory. At that point, the shouting rose to a frenzied roar.

A few minutes later, M. W. Miller of Dallas, Southern Teamster boss, chairman of convention arrangements and ardent Hoffa supporter, jubilantly declared: "Did you see that out there—we just held the election."

Celebrezze Wins Cleveland Poll

CLEVELAND — Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze, a possible future candidate for governor of Ohio or U. S. senator, handily won reelection to a third term Tuesday. He polled 57 per cent of the vote in a three-way nonpartisan primary for the $25,000 a year post.

The victory means that the 47-year-old independent Democrat won't face a run-off.

The final tally was Celebrezze 73,230; Mark McElroy 42,769, and Michael E. Gallagher 12,361.

Pio Ciprotti, a lay member of the Vatican's Rota, the high tribunal that rules on the validity of marriages, said such marriages as that of the glamorous film star to Carlo Ponti were, under church law, "gravely illicit."

Federal Troop Withdrawal Hitting Snag

Two Words 'by Me'
In Statement Brings
School Fuss Impasse

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Gov. Orval Faubus said today he is "standing pat" on the wording he used to accept President Eisenhower's terms for withdrawing federal troops from Little Rock Central High school.

The President had rejected Faubus' wording of acceptance Tuesday and said troops would remain until the assurance from Faubus coincided with the statement worked out by a committee of four Southern governors.

This apparently left the efforts of the Southern governors, acting as a committee for the Southern Governors Conference at impasse since Faubus refused to concede to their wording.

Faubus said he had agreed to two main points worked out by Eisenhower and the Southern governors:

1. That he would accept "full responsibility for maintaining law and order."
2. That "I would not obstruct orders of the court" for integration.

THE HITCH in what appeared Tuesday to be a workable solution to removal of federal troops and agreement between Faubus and Eisenhower developed over Faubus changing the exact wording which had been worked out.

He added "by me" to the prepared statement that there would be no further obstruction to the court's order for integration of Central High School. This left in doubt the question of whether someone else might obstruct the order.

The President rejected Faubus' change of the wording and said troops of the 101st Airborne Infantry Division, that protected nine Negro students at Central High last week, will remain in Little Rock.

The paratroopers have not been on guard during school hours for two days, their guarding chores taken over by the federalized Arkansas National Guard.

At his press conference today, Faubus was pressed hard for a statement on whether he would personally guarantee the safety of the Negro children if the federal troops are withdrawn.

He parried the question several times with the words, "I don't have to. That is the responsibility of the federal government."

Finally when asked if he would answer "yes" or "no" to the question of guaranteeing the safety of the nine Negroes, he turned to the reporter who asked it and said:

"HAVE YOU stopped beating your wife? Answer that yes or no."

Nine Negro students were greeted with shouts and hoots today at Central High School but they entered the school without any disorder. It was the eighth day of troop

Some 60 baseball fans were in line at Yankee Stadium at 1 a.m. today to buy bleacher seats for the first game of the Series.

Bleacher seats went on sale five hours before the start of the game.
Many in the line carried wooden boxes to sit on during their long wait. Two 16-year-old New Yorkers, Philip Cowen and Barry Schwartz, brought a folding bed on which to relax.

Stengel, who had expected to come back with another left-hander, Bobby Shantz, in the second game, appeared uncertain after Tuesday's workout.

"I'm not so sure left-handers are a better bet than right-handers against Milwaukee," Casey said.
"My Thursday pitcher depends upon what happens to my Wednesday pitcher. If the Braves should treat Ford a little too roughly, I'll probably give them Bob Tur-ley (a right-hander). If Whitey does a commendable job, it will be Shantz."

Haney has no doubt regarding his starters, although he insisted after the Braves' workout he was prepared to use everybody in every game. You can be sure that it will be Lew Burdette Thursday and Bob Buhl Saturday in Milwaukee. Then the merry-go-round starts again with Spahn, Burdette and Buhl in that order.

If the series goes into the seventh and final game, you can look for Spahn to make his third starting appearance next Thursday in Yankee Stadium, unless he has to be used in relief before that.

"Barring the unforeseen," Haney said, "I plan to go with three pitchers all through the series, with the others all to be used in relief, in the bullpen. That does not mean that I'd hesitate to use either Spahn or Burdette in relief, if the occasion calls for it."

Carl Hubbell, the old New York
Giants' southpaw, picks pitcher Gene Conley as the potential star of the Series. "He is particularly effective against a club the first time they see him. With those long arms and legs you don't know where the pitch is coming from," he said.

Haney hasn't let the pressure dissipate his sense of humor. Told that Casey Stengel was worried about the physical condition of Mickey Mantle and Moose Skowron, he laughed: "Tell Casey that I'll let him add two players if either of those guys is out."

Milwaukee second baseman Red Schoendienst said his aging legs are all set to carry him through the series. "They're all taped up like a race horse," he laughed,
"but I still can run."

Milwaukee's big first baseman, Joe Adcock, thinks there will be few home runs, that neither club has a decisive edge.

Yank infielder - outfielder Joe Collins usually wears tape around his right wrist. Asked what was wrong, he cracked: "Nothing, it just looks good."

Said Whitey Ford when asked if he'd like to pitch three games:
"I'd like it better if four Yankee pitchers have one start each and then we all go home."

State police said Whitley told them that Ralph Walker Taylor, 36, Kenova, W.Va., fired the shots that killed State Troopers Dugald
A. Pellot, 23, Clinton, Mich., and William Kellems, 27, Scottsburg.

Taylor died Monday night in an exchange of gunfire with Lester Kenen, 38, North Vernon patrolman, as Taylor and Whitley fled from a police roadblock set up at Vernon after Kellems was slain.

The killing of Taylor and cornering of Whitley ended a four-month robbery spree by the two gunmen. Taylor was a convicted rapist and parole violator from West Virginia, but police said Whitley had no previous record of a major crime.

Whitley told of a series of 21 armed robberies from Delaware to Texas but said he and Taylor never were forced to fire their guns until Monday, when Trooper Douglas A. Vogel stopped them in a traffic check near Clinton.

Gl's Japanese Wife
May be Witness

MAEBASHI, Japan (A) — Japanese government prosecutors said today they might ask William S.
Girard's Japanese wife to testify in the GI's manslaughter trial if the defense doesn't.

Girard's Japanese lawyer has ordered Mrs. Haru "Candy" Gi-lard to stay out of court. He said the Japanese public disapproved of their marrying while the Ottawa, Ill., soldier was under indictment for the fatal shooting of a Japanese woman collecting scrap brass on a firing range.

Japanese law, however, obli-gates the prosecution to present all pertinent facts even if they do not support the government's case.

Worker Survives
300-Degree Bath

DALLAS (A) — Carl W. Ely, 42, fell into a vat of 300-degree oil as he and Durrell Pierce, 23, were taking a piece of hot steel from a furnace at a heat treatment plant.

Ely went completely under, except for one hand with which he gripped the edge of the vat. Pierce quickly grabbed the hand and pulled him out.

Doctors said Ely was seriously burned, but said his clothing and Pierce's quick action saved him from more serious burns and possible death.

BALTIMORE (A) — The Air Force today took the wraps off a mechanical navigator which can plot a course anywhere on the globe, compute the speed and drift of the airplane and signal when the destination is reached.

The Air Research and Development Command actually disclosed the details of six Doppler Radar self-contained aircraft navigation systems. At the same time, it told about an airborne north-seeking gyro compass which is the principal component of the systems.

"So accurate is the Doppler navigation system that after a 1,000-mile flight, an aircraft will arrive within a circle 12 miles in diameter around the destination," the ARDC said.

The systems have been and are being built now, ARDC added, and are the result of a project started in 1945 at its Wright Air Development Command in Dayton, Ohio.
The six systems described range from a compact unit weighing only 110 pounds to a giant of 725 pounds which takes up 27.5 cubic feet of space. They have been designed for use in virtually any Air Force plane, from helicopters to the biggest bombers.

The Doppler Radar systems use a principle discovered in 1842 by the Austrian physicist Christian Doppler.

Signals are beamed to the ground, where they bounce or echo back to the airplane and are picked up by a receiver. The difference in frequencies between the original signal and its received echo is measured by precise computation within the radar set, the ground speed is determined and presented on a dial.

When two beams are used, angled forward to the right and left of the plane, the readings are compared automatically and give not only the plane's true speed over the ground but show wind drift—the sideways slippage of the plane from action of the wind.

A navigator has only to put into the computer the latitude and longitude of the plane at the start of the flight and the same information for the destination.

Once the plane is airborne, the computer takes the information supplied by the Doppler Radar and the compass, computes its present position and the course it must fly to reach the destination.

It also computes the distance to be traveled. This information is presented on dials for the pilot's guidance or can be fed into an automatic pilot which flies the airplane to its destination.

The pilot need keep only one indicator arrow pointed straight up to stay on his computed course.
When he reaches his destination, a light glows to signal the trip's end.

Trim Prices Again

NEW YORK (A) — Two leading coffee roasters today cut prices two to three cents a pound on the wholesale level.

General Foods Corp. reduced its grocery pack regular ground Maxwell House and Sanka coffees three cents a pound and its regular ground Yuban and Bliss coffees two cents a pound.

Standard Brands Inc. dropped the wholesale price of its regular ground Chase & Sanborn coffee three cents a pound.
The last price cut was Sept. 11.
At that time, the reduction was attributed in part to a drop in prices of Colombian coffee. No reason was given for today's announcements.

Jamestown Man Kills Wife, Then Shoots Himself

Howard Freed
Are Victims of Murder-Suicide

JAMESTOWN (Special) — A 27 year marriage that began as a childhood romance ended in tragedy here when Howard Freed, 46, shot his wife, Lucille, 45, and then took his own life at the couple's home.

The bodies were discovered in the couple's three-room apartment on Jamestown's main street (Route 35) about 6:30 p. m. Tuesday by Robert Greene of Jamestown, Mrs.
Freed's brother-in-law, who came to pay a casual call. Dr. Hugh C.
Schick, Greene County Coroner, returned the murder-suicide verdict and said they died about 10
a. m. Tuesday.

Jamestown Police Chief Howard
Wright, a lifelong friend of both
Mr. and Mrs. Freed, said that Mr.
Freed had been in ill health lately, and that that was the only explanation he could give for the murder-suicide.

He said he knew of no rift in the couple's long relationship.
They had no children.

DESPITE the fact that the Freed's apartment is located in a busy downtown district, no one responding hearing any of the three shots that were fired from Freed's
.45 calibre automatic pistol.

Mrs. Freed's mother, Mrs. Della Glover, formerly of Fayette County, said she saw Mr. Freed from the back window of her home as he stood on the back porch of his own home "doing something with the gun" about 10 a. m.

That was the last time they were seen until Greene found the bodies.
Greene said he went to the back door of the home at 6:30, knocked, and, getting no response, entered through the unlocked back door.

FREED'S BODY was sprawled on the kitchen floor with a bullet hole between mouth and nose. The pistol was lying about five inches from his hand.

Greene said he rushed into the next room shouting "Lucille! Lucille!"
He found her body lying face up across one of the twin beds in the bedroom. She had been shot through the head, too.

COLUMBUS (A) — Ohio, contrary to some recent criticism, is doing "very well" in planning its highway construction program, says Bertram D. Tallamy, the nation's highway chief.

Tallamy met here Tuesday with Ohio Highway Chief Charles M.
Noble for a discussion of federal highway administration.

Critics in some quarters have claimed that Noble is using unnecessarily high standards on the Cincinnati-Conneaut Freeway. His critics say unnecessarily gentle curves and grades and wide median strips on the Freeway will bring the cost of the roadway higher than it ought to be.

Worker Hurt in Fall Into City Water Tank

UPPER SANDUSKY (A) — Rescuers worked 45 minutes Tuesday to remove Richard Allen, 21, from a hugely city water tank where he was injured seriously in a fall.

Allen, of Rockford, Ill., was employed by the Spellman Elevated Tank Service Co. of Rockford in cleaning city water tanks when he fell 25 feet from a scaffolding inside the tank.

Another $7,700,000 was awarded in maintenance and repair contracts and about $5,600,000 for preliminary engineering.

Actress Gets Church
Warning on Marriage

VATICAN CITY (A) — A Vatican attorney warned today that actress Sophia Loren and the divorced Italian director she married by proxy in Mexico are liable to excommunication if they set up housekeeping.

Pio Ciprotti, a lay member of the Vatican's Rota, the high tribunal that rules on the validity of marriages, said such marriages as that of the glamorous film star to Carlo Ponti were, under church law, "gravely illicit."

Looks Confident, All Right

APPEARING SUPREMELY CONFIDENT, James Hoffa gives a wave and a grin from stage of Teamsters convention in Miami Beach, Fla. Behind him smiles the facsimile of Dave Beck, the man he expects to succeed to presidency.

Opponents Battle Hoffa Steamroller

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (A) — Three opponents battled desperately today to stem a steamroller which appeared to be sweeping James R. Hoffa of Detroit toward the presidency of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

In a swirling, slambang battle for delegate votes, Hoffa picked up endorsements from the New England Conference, the Eastern Conference and the Los Angeles Joint Council of Teamsters in his campaign to succeed retiring President Dave Beck.

International Vice President Elnar Mohn, formerly of Los Angeles and now Beck's administrative assistant, made his first public move in the massive battle for power as he spearheaded the drive to win the Los Angeles delegates over to the Midwest Teamster boss.

General Secretary John F. English, a veteran and powerful Teamster figure, was prominent in the action of the New England Conference in Hoffa's favor.

But anti-Hoffa forces were still active, aggressive and asserting confidence. A spokesman said the Maryland and Washington, D. C., delegates declined to endorse Hoffa and that Virginia and Carolina delegates may follow suit.

INTERNATIONAL Vice President William A. Lee of Chicago was given a vote of confidence by the National Bakers Drivers Conference, but not an endorsement.

Efforts to form a coalition of forces between Lee, Vice President Thomas L. Hickey of New York and Thomas J. Haggerty, Chicago milk truck drivers' official, continued.

Haggerty Tuesday night declared that the determination of the three Hoffa foes to "go down to the wire" means that their separate strength will be sufficient to prevent Hoffa's election.

But the scrapping Midwest Teamster boss, target of charges of racketeering and misuse of union funds, ridiculed his opponents.

And he showed his strength by turning into a personal ovation a demonstration over the refusal by Chief Justice Earl Warren of the U. S. Supreme Court to halt Teamster elections.

Warren Tuesday refused to disturb a Circuit Court of Appeals decreed setting aside a temporary injunction by Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts which would have prevented the Teamsters from electing new officers at their convention here this week.

When Beck announced to the convention news of Warren's decision, delegates jumped to their feet shouting and hurling scraps of paper into the air.

Hoffa suddenly appeared on the rostrum and raised Beck's hand in the traditional prize ring signal of victory. At that point, the shouting rose to a frenzied roar.

A few minutes later, M. W. Miller of Dallas, Southern Teamster boss, chairman of convention arrangements and ardent Hoffa supporter, jubilantly declared, "Did you see that out there—we just held the election."

Celebrezze Wins
Cleveland Poll

CLEVELAND (A) — Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze, a possible future candidate for governor of Ohio or U. S. senator, handily won reelection to a third term Tuesday. He polled 57 per cent of the vote in a three-way nonpartisan primary for the $25,000 a-year post.

The victory means that the 47-year-old independent Democrat won't face a run-off.
The final tally was Celebrezze 73,230; Mark McElroy 42,769, and Michael E. Gallagher 12,361.

Federal Troop Withdrawal Hitting Snag

Two Words 'by Me'
In Statement Brings
School Fuss Impasse

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (A) — Gov.
Orval Faubus said today he is "standing pat" on the wording he used to accept President Eisenhower's terms for withdrawing federal troops from Little Rock Central High school.

The President had rejected
Faubus' wording of acceptance Tuesday and said troops would remain until the assurance from Faubus coincided with the statement worked out by a committee of four Southern governors.

This apparently left the efforts of the Southern governors, acting as a committee for the Southern Governors Conference at impasse since Faubus refused to concede to their wording.

Faubus said he had agreed to two main points worked out by Eisenhower and the Southern governors:

1. That he would accept "full responsibility for maintaining law and order."
2. That "I would not obstruct orders of the court" for integration.

THE HITCH in what appeared Tuesday to be a workable solution to removal of federal troops and agreement between Faubus and Eisenhower developed over Faubus changing the exact wording which had been worked out.

He added "by me" to the prepared statement that there would be no further obstruction to the court's order for integration of Central High School. This left in doubt the question of whether someone else might obstruct the order.

The President rejected Faubus change of the wording and said troops of the 101st Airborne Infantry Division, that protected nine Negro students at Central High last week, will remain in Little Rock.

Arabia Rejects Western Views On Middle East

U. N. Urged To Adopt Hands Off Attitude On Syrian Problems

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Saudi Arabia today rejected Western charges that Soviet arms shipments were endangering peace in the Middle East. Instead, it said the tension was caused by the relics of Western imperialism.

In a policy declaration before the 82-nation General Assembly, Minister of State Ahmad Shukairy called on the U. N. to adopt a hands-off attitude and let the Middle East settle its own problems.

He declared the full solidarity of his country with Syria.

"We shall resist any attempt to interfere in the affairs of Syria," he said. "We shall not allow the Middle East to be plunged into any cold war of any character."

Shukairy said the Western powers had charged that the Soviet Union was trying to incite Arab nationalism with the aim of breaking the ties of the Arab nations with the West.

"Arab ties with the West are breaking," he said. "The Arab countries are eager to establish the best relations with the west on a level of equality and mutual respect."

HE ASSERTED Syria's arms buildup "is no danger to any neighbors."

Saudi Arabia was the only Arab nation to speak in the morning debate. Jordan and Iraq had planned to deliver policy speeches, but decided later to postpone their appearance until another day.

Neither Syria nor Egypt, the Arab nations friendliest to the Soviet bloc, have spoken in the general debate.

Syria canceled two appearances scheduled last week. Observers believe Syria's delay is a result of Saudi Arabian King Saud's visit last week to Damascus, where he reportedly tried to find a basis for relations between Syria and the United States, Jordan and Iraq.

There have been indications that Saud appealed to President Eisenhower to modify the U. S. government's hostility to the Syrian regime.

Observers at the Damascus party reported a subtle change appeared to be taking place in Syria's viewpoint towards the West, with indications she was opening the door for new negotiations.

In another development, the General Assembly agreed to debate the Soviet-proposed question of peaceful coexistence and non-interference in the affairs of other countries. Another U. S. - Russian clash between Russia and the United States was anticipated when the Assembly's Political Committee takes up the item.

Walter Gorman, 71, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday at his home on the Old Chillicothe Rd. He had been in failing health for several years.

He was a native of Clinton County, but had spent most of his life in Madison County and Fayette County, where he had lived 35 years, mostly in the Jeffersonville and Washington C. H. areas as a farmer.

He was a member of the Congregational Christian Church at South Solon and of the Masonic Lodge at Sedalia.

He is survived by his wife, Leah Spears Gorman; two sons, Harold of Washington C. H. and Karl of Mt. Sterling; and seven grandchildren. He also leaves two brothers, Orville of Washington C. H. and Frank of Sabina, and a sister, Mrs. Bessie Underwood of Dayton.

Libel Trial Jury Unable To Agree

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Deadlocked after two weeks of unproductive wrangling, the jury in the Confidential magazine criminal libel trial was discharged Tuesday night.

Declaration of a mistrial dropped the curtain on an inconclusive climax to a two-month legal battle over whether Confidential, its sister scandal magazine Whisper and other defendants conspired to libel celebrities and to publish lewd and obscene stories.

But this, said Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritz, was only the first act.

"The case will be retried," he said. Earlier he had promised that other defendants would be brought to trial on the same charges.

Foreman Fred L. McCulley told Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker that the jury was divided 7 to 5 for conviction and there was no hope of reaching a verdict.

Juror LaGuette Drouet told reporters that the deliberations, which began Sept. 17, developed into bitter wrangling.

He said there was "a lot of table-pounding" and some "big fights over the evidence."

2 Children Treated After Accidents

Two children were treated in the emergency room at Memorial Hospital Tuesday for accidental injuries.

Michael Crawford, 11, son of Mr. Donna Bell Crawford of Mt. Sterling, was treated for head cuts he sustained when he fell at school after running into another child.

Treated for a wrist cut after he ran into a storm door at home was Vernon Hawkins, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hawkins of 413 Sixth St.

Aid-to-Aged Payments $38,357 in September

Fayette County spent $38,357 during September for aid to the aged payments according to a report from the Department of Public Welfare, Columbus.

A total of 668 people received payments subject to federal aid, averaging $57.07 per payment. Another three were not subject to federal aid and received average payments of $78.33.

Four Truckers Face Court Here

Overloading Charged By State Patrolmen

Three area truck drivers were fined by Judge Max G. Dice in Municipal Court Wednesday on charges of overloading, filed by the State Highway Patrol.

A fourth forfeited bond for non-appearance on the same charge. Patrolman R. R. Sheline said all four charges were filed Tuesday afternoon by patrolmen in the southern part of the county operating one of the state's truck-weighing trailers.

Pleading guilty to the charge were William H. Wilson, 28, of Route 1, Bloomingburg; Russ E. L. Theobald, 57, of Route 1, Washington C. H.; and John Priest, 35, of Leesburg.

Wilson was fined $31 and costs and the other two, $25 and costs each.

Sheline pointed out that the state ordinance under which they were sentenced establishes a scale of penalties based on the amount of the overload. Minimum is $25.

Forfeiting $25 bond on the count was George Aills, 34, of near Washington C. H.

William Bainter, 22, of 518 Gibbs Ave., was fined $5 and costs, with the fine suspended, at the same court session for making excessive noise with a truck.

Forfeiting bond for non-appearance on speeding charges were Albert Borreen, 19, of Greenfield, who forfeited $15, and Dwight Spencer, 20, of Lewistown, who forfeited $20.

Faubus Stands Pat

of between 75 to 150 white students gathered there.

The Negroes, unescorted, took a sidewalk leading to their left and headed for a side entrance. When the white students noticed this, the jeering grew in volume and there were cries of "chicken!"

Mrs. L. C. Bates, state president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, made a rare appearance in the high school area, driving by to see if the Negro students had gotten safely inside the school.

Mrs. Bates said Tuesday that the nine Negroes were subjected inside the school to what she described as organized intimidation by the white students. Mrs. Bates said objects were thrown at the Negroes by the other students.

She said that pencils, papers and pebbles were thrown at the children. Some of the six Negro girls were shown knives and were shoved, Mrs. Bates said.

Reporters saw white students apparently try to block some of the Negroes when they went to classes Tuesday. The Negroes walked around the other students.

One Negro girl dropped her books, or they were knocked from her grasp, and guardsmen double-time to her side.

Removal of the paratroopers from school duty apparently encouraged a handful of white students, among those boycotting classes since integration, to appear across from the campus.

This group was orderly but one of them told reporters that efforts were under way to organize a mass walkout of white students.

The Traveler Pleads Guilty

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A man accused of passing $500,000 in worthless checks across the nation in 14 years has pleaded guilty to five counts of forgery.

Municipal Judge C. Newell Carns Tuesday ordered Charles R. Speedie—known to police as "The Traveler"—to appear in Superior Court Oct. 8 for sentencing.

Police say Speedie, arrested last month in a Cleveland suburb, is wanted in seven states and 150 California municipalities in connection with bogus checks.

180 Korean Veterans Get $44,650.80 Bonus

A total of $44,650.80 had been received as state bonus by 180 veterans of the Korean war in Fayette County by Sept. 30, according to a statement today from the Columbus office of the Korean Compensation Fund.

Bernard Witherspoon, veterans' service officer here, estimated in Fayette County eligible to receive the state bonus.

However, he added, "there is no way of knowing how many of them have applied for their bonus, because the application forms are available at several places."

"Some of them," he said, "may have sent in their applications from other counties into which they have moved since the war or where they may be working now."

Witherspoon expressed the belief that most of those eligible to the bonus have already made application for it and estimated that about a fourth of them—those who made application early—have received their checks.

The bonuses received by Fayette County average $248 and this is just about the average over the state. The maximum amount any veteran may receive is $400.

TO DATE, bonus checks amounting to $22,184,000 have been sent to 89,430 veterans throughout the state, Director Chester W. Goble announced. The checks have averaged $248.06.

"Our goal is to pay all claims as soon as possible and we continue to mail approximately $25,000 in checks each working day," Director Goble said, adding:

"To do this, we are going through all claims as rapidly as possible and approving those that we can for payment. Those presenting some problem are referred to an irregular claim section."

"Most problems occur on questions of residence at the time the applicant entered service and for one year prior thereto and accurate dates of foreign service between June 5, 1950, and July 9, 1953."

Goble said the handling of irregular claims requires a thorough re-examination by specially trained examiners to determine the necessary additional information required.

Applicants with claim numbers lower than 155,000, who have not received a bonus check, can be reasonably certain their claims are in the irregular claims section, the director said.

"We have sent out the necessary forms either to the applicant or to their branch of service on all unpaid claims with numbers lower than 40,000 and those with higher claim numbers will be notified as soon as possible," Goble explained.

Applications may be filed through December 31, 1958.

Confessed Spy Weeps, Says He Is Sorry

NEW YORK (AP)—Tears filling his eyes and his hands trembling, confessed spy Jack Sobel said Tuesday he deeply regrets the crimes he committed against his country. He asked mercy from the country he schemed to betray.

The 55-year-old former head of a Soviet intelligence ring in the United States told Federal Judge Richard H. Levett:

"I cannot forgive myself. I had plenty of opportunity to straighten out my life since I came to this country and I didn't do it."

Sobel appeared before Levett for sentencing. He had pleaded guilty to conspiring to obtain national defense secrets, knowing the information would be transmitted to the Soviet Union.

Levett said he would impose sentence next Tuesday. He also will rule on motions to reduce the 5½-year sentences he imposed Aug. 9 on Sobel's wife Myra, 53, and Jacob Albaum, 64.

Mrs. Sobel and Albaum pleaded guilty to the same charge as did Sobel.

Sobel could get a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Police Chief Wright said that Freed suffered a heart attack a year or more ago and had been unable to work since. He said that he had been "irritable" sometimes, and that he "demanded a lot of attention" from his wife, but that he "still seemed to think the world of her."

He said there had been no perceptible change whatever in Freed's conduct during recent weeks.

Mrs. AND MRS. Freed owned the old Wickersham Hotel in downtown Jamestown for few years in the 1930s, friends recalled, and owned the Hemlock Cafe, across the street from their apartment, for a short while about 10 years ago.

In later years, Fred occupied himself as a contractor and custom hauler. Mrs. Freed had not worked for a number of years, it was said.

Born in the Pleasant View community of Fayette County, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry (Ike) Glover, Mrs. Freed, like her husband, went to school in Jamestown.

They were married in 1930 when he was 19 and she, 18. They lived in Jamestown all their married life.

Besides her mother, Mrs. Freed is survived by a sister, Mrs. Louise Greene, Jamestown, the wife of Robert Greene. A brother, Auburn (Red) Glover, well-known in Fayette County for many years, preceded her in death.

Mrs. Freed is survived by a half-sister, Mrs. Betty Gultice, Xenia.

Mrs. Freed was a member of the Jamestown Church of Christ.

Tentative funeral arrangements call for services at 2 p. m. Friday in the Powers Funeral Home, Jamestown, and burial in the Jamestown Cemetery.

Scientist Says Moon Is Good For H-Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A University of Maryland scientist today proposed the moon as a safe, remote site for testing hydrogen bombs.

Dr. S. Fred Singer said it will be no greater technical problem to send an interplanetary ballistic missile 240,000 miles to the moon than it will be to launch an intercontinental missile 5,000 miles.

Singer presented his unusual views in a paper prepared for the Congress of the International Astronautical Federation in Barcelona, Spain, next week.

An advance report on his views was published today in Missiles and Rockets magazine.

Singer said the testing of missiles with hydrogen warheads, by firing them at the moon, not only would free the earth of radioactive fallout dangers but would provide valuable scientific data.

He said some of the debris kicked up from blasting craters on the moon may shower the earth with dust particles and even boulders. But he said the study of these moon samples would provide valuable information on the solar system.

Singer said the moon missile would have to reach a peak velocity of 35,000 feet a second (40 per cent greater than that of the proposed earth satellites) to escape the earth's gravitational field and fall into that of the moon.

Arabia Rejects Western Views On Middle East

U. N. Urged To Adopt Hands Off Attitude On Syrian Problems

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Saudi Arabia today rejected Western charges that Soviet arms shipments were endangering peace in the Middle East. Instead, it said the tension was caused by the relics of Western imperialism.

In a policy declaration before the 82-nation General Assembly, Minister of State Ahmad Shukairy called on the U. N. to adopt a hands-off attitude and let the Middle East settle its own problems.

He declared the full solidarity of his country with Syria.

"We shall resist any attempt to interfere in the affairs of Syria," he said. "We shall not allow the Middle East to be plunged into any cold war of any character."

Shukairy said the Western powers had charged that the Soviet Union was trying to incite Arab nationalism with the aim of breaking the ties of the Arab nations with the West.

"Arab ties with the West are breaking," he said. "The Arab countries are eager to establish the best relations with the west on a level of equality and mutual respect."

HE ASSERTED Syria's arms buildup "is no danger to any neighbors."

Saudi Arabia was the only Arab nation to speak in the morning debate. Jordan and Iraq had planned to deliver policy speeches, but decided later to postpone their appearance until another day.

Neither Syria nor Egypt, the Arab nations friendliest to the Soviet bloc, have spoken in the general debate.

Syria canceled two appearances scheduled last week. Observers believe Syria's delay is a result of Saudi Arabian King Saud's visit last week to Damascus, where he reportedly tried to find a basis for friendly relations between Syria and the United States, Jordan and Iraq.

There have been indications that Saud appealed to President Eisenhower to modify the U. S. government's hostility to the Syrian regime.

Observers at the Damascus party reported a subtle change appeared to be taking place in Syria's viewpoint towards the West, with indications she was opening the door for new negotiations.

In another development, the General Assembly agreed to debate the Soviet-proposed question of peaceful coexistence and non-interference in the affairs of other countries. Another U. S. - Russian clash between Russia and the United States was anticipated when the Assembly's Political Committee takes up the item.

Libel Trial Jury Unable To Agree

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Deadlocked after two weeks of unproductive wrangling, the jury in the Confidential magazine criminal libel conspiracy trial was discharged Tuesday night.

Declaration of a mistrial dropped the curtain on an inconclusive climax to a two-month legal battle over whether Confidential, its sister scandal magazine Whisper and other defendants conspired to libel celebrities and to publish lewd and obscene stories.

But this, said Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritzl, was only the first act.

"The case will be retired," he said. Earlier he had promised that other defendants would be brought to trial on the same charges.

Foreman Fred L. McCulley told Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker that the jury was divided 7 to 5 for conviction and there was no hope of reaching a verdict.

Judge LaGuerra Drouet told reporters that the deliberations, which began Sept. 17, developed into bitter wrangling.

He said there was "a lot of table-pounding" and some "big fights over the evidence."

2 Children Treated After Accidents

Two children were treated in the emergency room at Memorial Hospital Tuesday for accidental injuries.

Michael Crawford, 11, son of Mrs. Donna Bell Crawford of Mt. Sterling, was treated for head cuts he sustained when he fell at school after running into another child.

Treated for a wrist cut after he ran into a storm door at home was Vernon Hawkins, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hawkins of 413 Sixth St.

Four Truckers Face Court Here

Overloading Charged By State Patrolmen

Three area truck drivers were fined by Judge Max G. Dice in Municipal Court Wednesday on charges of overloading, filed by the State Highway Patrol.

A fourth forfeited bond for non-appearance on the same charge. Patrolman R. R. Sheline said all four charges were filed Tuesday afternoon by patrolmen in the southern part of the county operating one of the state's truck-weighting trailers.

Pleading guilty to the charge were William H. Wilson, 28, of Route 1, Bloomingburg; Russell Theobald, 57, of Route 1, Washington C. H.; and John Priest, 35, of Leesburg.

Wilson was fined $31 and costs and the other two, $25 and costs each.

Sheline pointed out that the state ordinance under which they were sentenced establishes a scale of penalties based on the amount of the overload. Minimum is $25.

Forfeiting $25 bond on the count was George Aills, 34, of near Washington C. H.

William Bainter, 22, of 518 Gibbs Ave., was fined $5 and costs, with the fine suspended, at the same court session for making excessive noise with a truck.

Forfeiting bond for non-appearance on speeding charges were Albert Boerren, 19, of Greenfield, who forfeited $15, and Dwight Spencer, 20, of Lewistown, who forfeited $20.

of between 75 to 150 white students gathered there.

The Negroes, unescorted, took a sidewalk leading to their left and headed for a side entrance. When the white students noticed this, the jeering grew in volume and there were cries of "chicken!"

Mrs. L. C. Bates, state president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, made a rare appearance in the high school area, driving by to see if the Negro students had gotten safely inside the school.

Mrs. Bates said Tuesday that the nine Negroes were subjected inside the school to what she described as organized intimidation by the white students. Mrs. Bates said objects were thrown at the Negroes by the other students.

She said that pencils, papers and pebbles were thrown at the children. Some of the six Negro girls were shown knives and were shoved, Mrs. Bates said.

Reporters saw white students apparently try to block some of the Negroes when they went to classes Tuesday. The Negroes walked around the other students. One Negro girl dropped her books, or they were knocked from her grasp, and guardsmen double-timed to her side.

Removal of the paratroopers from school duty apparently encouraged a handful of white students, among those boycotting classes since integration, to appear across from the campus.

This group was orderly but one of them told reporters that efforts were under way to organize a mass walkout of white students.

He said there had been no perceptible change whatever in Freed's conduct during recent weeks.

MR. AND MRS. Freed owned the old Wickham Hotel in downtown Jamestown for few years in the 1930s, friends recalled, and owned the Hemlock Cafe, across the street from their apartment, for a short while about 10 years ago.

In later years, Fred occupied himself as a contractor and custom hauler. Mrs. Freed had not worked for a number of years, it was said.

Born in the Pleasant View community of Fayette County, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry (Lyle) Glover, Mrs. Freed, like her husband, went to school in Jamestown.

They were married in 1930 when he was 19 and she, 18. They lived in Jamestown all their married life.

Besides her mother, Mrs. Freed is survived by a sister, Mrs. Louise Greene, Jamestown, the wife of Robert Greene. A brother, Auburn (Red) Glover, well known in Fayette County for many years, preceded her in death.

Mr. Freed is survived by a half-sister, Mrs. Betty Gultice, Xenia. Mrs. Freed was a member of the Jamestown Church of Christ.

Tentative funeral arrangements call for services at 2 p. m. Friday in the Powers Funeral Home, Jamestown, and burial in the Jamestown Cemetery.

Tiny Nation Tense, Armed Camps Form

SAN MARINO (AP)—Communist and anti-Communist militiamen opposed each other today in this tiny republic, but neither showed any inclination to start fighting while a heavy rain continued.

About 50 civilian volunteers armed with submachineguns, rifles and pistols guarded a factory at the eastern tip of San Marino where a new provisional anti-Communist government set up headquarters Tuesday.

Some 100 young Communist volunteers armed with pre-World War I rifles and 20 rounds of ammunition each patrolled the rest of San Marino, including the government palace. The palace still was held by the Red government the anti-Communists are trying to oust.

Third Quarter Reports Show Dip in Profits

Some Businessmen Correct in Saying They Suffer Squeeze

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Some business men aren't kidding when they say their profits are being squeezed today. The first corporations to report on third quarter earnings show almost half of them making less this year than last.

This trend has disturbed stock market traders as much as anything of late. They note in particular that in many cases where earnings are below former levels total sales have increased, sometimes to record highs. But operating costs have risen faster and higher toward the break - even point.

The flood of third quarter earnings reports is yet to come after the accountants finish with the books closed Monday. But a number of corporations have fiscal years that don't fit the calendar year and their third quarter figures are available.

They are only an indication of what was going on among the profit and loss accounts this summer. Later and fuller reports may well overturn them.

The first 34 of these early bird reports show 18 companies doing better than a year ago and 16 doing worse. Each year one company operated at a net loss, but it was a different firm in 1956 than in 1957.

Combined, the 34 have net income after taxes of $42,462,683 for their summer operations. In their 1956 third quarter the same 34 had profits of $44,362,323. This was a decline of 3.8 per cent.

The squeeze on profits has been growing for some time. In the first three months of this year corporate earnings topped the year ago figure by about 8 per cent - but they were just even with the before - tax earnings racked up in the final three months of 1956.

By the April, May and June quarter business profits were riding only 3 per cent above the second quarter of 1956.

The Department of Commerce, reporting on all corporate earnings before taxes in the first three months of this year, figured it at an annual rate of just under 44 billion dollars. This was down about 1 1/2 billion from the annual rate pace set in the last three months of 1956.

Many businesses look for their most profitable operations to come in the last three months of the year.

Merchants, in particular, are expecting that the record high level of personal income will mean that this year's Christmas sales will be the highest ever.

Buckeye Solon Rated as Liberal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Thomas L. Ashley of Ohio is one of 39 Democrats in the House who rate a perfect score from the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) for "liberal" voting.

The ADA analyzed votes in both the House and Senate on what it called key liberal issues. In the Senate, Democrats were "in harmony with liberal policies" 55 per cent of the time and Republicans 46 per cent.

In the House the Democrats had 39 members registering 100 per cent, the Republicans, none.

Twenty-six Republicans opposed the "liberal position" on all key votes, the ADA said. They included Rep. Gordon T. Sherer of Ohio. Twenty Democrats were given a zero rating.

Dr. Hay, Maj. Haines Find Look-Alike Troubles Mount

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Maj. William B. Haines came to an abrupt halt when a woman grabbed the lapel of his civilian suit coat in a statehouse corridor.

"I don't care so much that you didn't give my son a job, Dr. Hay, but I want to know why," she demanded.

Determination soon changed to confusion when the major convinced her that he was not Dr. James R. Hay, new state director of agriculture.

It was the first inkling for Haines, an Ohio National Guard officer, that he had a double in Dr. Hay, who took over the cabinet post in the administration of Gov. C. William O'Neill last February.

Dr. Hay soon became aware that he had a "look alike." Employees in the governor's office frequently said, "Hello, major," when he called at the statehouse on business.

Maj. Haines, chief of the division of soldiers' claims in the statehouse office of Adj. Gen. Leo M. Kreber, has frequent business with the governor. In that capacity, he seldom wears his uniform. He also is on the public information staff of the Ohio Civil Defense Corps.

Because of the similarity in appearance, dress and affable manner, O'Neill receptionist Bernice Harris brought the two men face to face.

All agreed that in each other's presence it is easy to tell Hay from Haines, once you know them. But apart, the confusion continues.

Both are the same height, 6 feet 1 1/2 inches. Both have blue eyes, fair complexions and brown hair touched with gray. Both like bow ties and light-colored suits.

Dr. Hay is five years older than the 40-year-old major but you would never guess it. The director weighs 238 pounds; the major 245.

Their careers have surprising parallels. Both were in communications branches during military service; Haines with the Army, Hay with the Navy. Both are married and have one child, Haines a son and Hay a daughter.

Haines was born in Detroit but his parents soon moved to Minerva, near Cleveland. Graduated from Baldwin-Wallace University, he enlisted in the Army in 1941. He was a technical sergeant upon entering the Army Signal Corps Officers Candidate School at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., to become a second lieutenant.

During World War II, Haines served for three years as a radar and communications officer in the Mediterranean Theater. He was a captain when he left the service in 1946 and became a reservist. Haines joined the Ohio Air National Guard in 1947 and was promoted to major in 1951. He now is communications and electronics officer on the Air Guard staff.

Recalled to duty during the Korean conflict, Haines was a radar officer for 18 months on the bleak northern tip of Hokkaido Island, northernmost outpost in Japan barely 32 miles from a Soviet base on the island of Karafuto.

Russian patrol planes kept the radar tracking crews busy.

Hay was born in London, Ontario, while his mother was on a visit to Canada. She was a native of Buffalo, N. Y. His father, an Ohioan, was born in Allen County. The family lived in Maryland before coming to Columbus where Hay was graduated from North High School and Ohio State University. He received his degree in veterinary medicine at OSU in 1939.

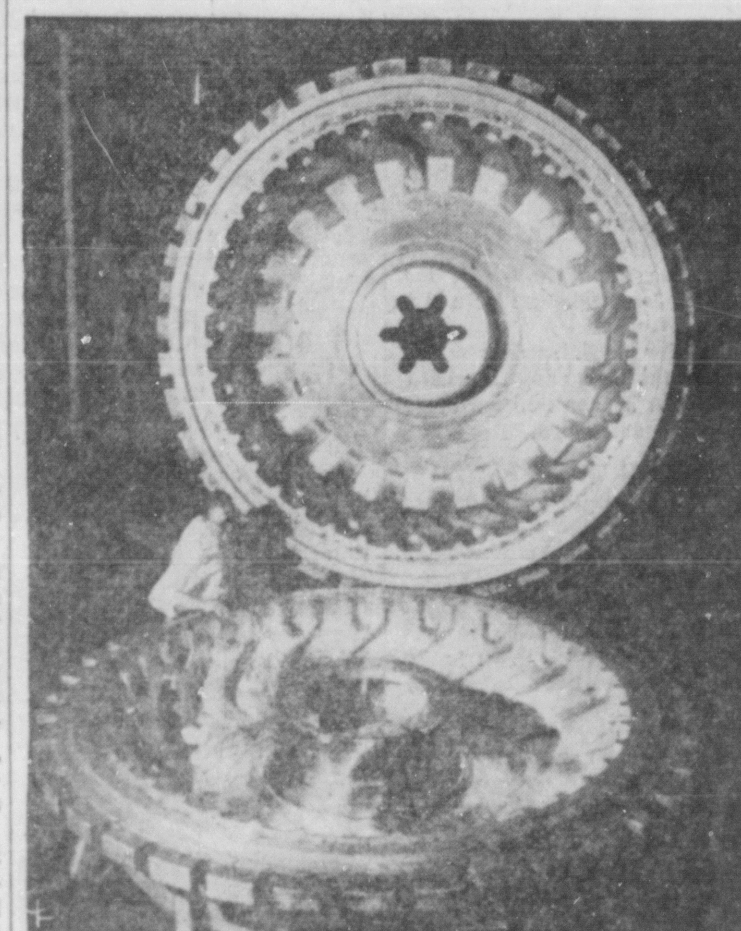

Dr. Hay did research at the University of Delaware and was in commercial medicine at Omaha, Neb., before serving for two years in the Navy during War II as a lieutenant. In the Southwest Pacific, he was communications and personnel officer in the naval operating base at Manila Subic. Later he was one of the organizers and officers in charge of the naval electronics unit at Chillicothe for more than six years. He now is in the U.S. Navy Reserve, retired.

Dr. Hay became state veterinarian in 1952 and served in that post until his appointment as director of agriculture last Feb. 4. Because their paths did not cross, Dr. Hay and Maj. Haines didn't know each other until this year. Direction of the department's eight divisions and 350 regular employees soon brought Dr. Hay to the statehouse and contact with his double.

As director of agriculture, Dr. Hay had charge of the recent state fair in Columbus. But he wasn't the only one to get requests for passes to the big exposition. Maj. Haines also received several requests for tickets from those who thought he was Dr. Hay.

Children's Bureau Finds Adoption Demands Growing

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON (AP)—More Americans want families today than ever before. The couples who can't have children want to adopt them. The sad thing is there are just not enough boys and girls to go around for all these would-be parents.

Adoptions are becoming increasingly popular and they are socially approved today. This is in sharp contrast to 25 years ago when adoptions were a hush-hush matter. The Children's Bureau estimates there were about 93,000 named in petitions for adoptions filed in courts in 1955. These included children adopted by relatives, or step parents, though the majority were children adopted by nonrelatives.

The Children's Bureau figures there are 10 to 15 times as many families that want to adopt children than there are children legally relinquished by their parents for adoption. Some 80,000 families each year file petitions to adopt a child.

There have been statements that there are plenty of children to go around. Recent census figures show there are some 87,000 children in institutions for dependent and neglected children.

The Children's Bureau says there is no basis for belief that the great majority of these children could be adopted. Most have parents who have not relinquished them for adoption; some have mental or physical handicaps; many are older children.

Most are there because death or illness of one parent, or a divorce, has caused temporary removal from their own homes until new plans can be made. Unless a legal surrender is made by the parents, or ordered by a court, in case the parents are dead, these children cannot be adopted by anyone.

The largest percentage of these institution children also are around seven years of age or over. Some people want the 7, 10, or 12-year olds. A few can be persuaded to take 2, 3 or 4-year-olds. But most couples ask for babies.

Historical Groups Meet in Columbus

COLUMBUS (AP)—For six days starting today, Columbus will be the national center of archival and historical matters when the Ohio Historical Society is host to three national organizations.

The Society of American Archivists will meet today through Friday. On Thursday, the American Assn. for State and Local History will open a three-day session. The Ohio Institute on Local and State History will hold its fourth annual session Saturday, meeting jointly with the American Association.

The third national group will be the North American Assn. of Public Sites officials who will be here Sunday and Monday.

Attorneys Oppose Proposed Ohio Law

COLUMBUS (AP)—Attorneys seeking to ban a proposed change in the Ohio Constitution from Nov. 5 election ballots say adoption would restrict the growth of cities.

James W. Farrell Jr., Cincinnati solicitor, made the assertion at an Ohio Supreme Court hearing Tuesday on the request of 11 cities to prevent a vote on the proposal. An early court decision was looked for.

The constitutional amendment seeks to give the legislature power to regulate the sale of municipally owned water and sewer services to factories, homes and other users outside their boundaries.

The Children's Bureau estimates there were about 93,000 named in petitions for adoptions filed in courts in 1955. These included children adopted by relatives, or step parents, though the majority were children adopted by nonrelatives.

The Children's Bureau figures there are 10 to 15 times as many families that want to adopt children, than there are children legally relinquished by their parents for adoption. Some 80,000 families each year file petitions to adopt a child.

There have been statements that there are plenty of children to go around. Recent census figures show there are some 87,000 children in institutions for dependent and neglected children.

The Children's Bureau says there is no basis for belief that the great majority of these children could be adopted. Most have parents who have not relinquished them for adoption; some have mental or physical handicaps; many are older children.

Most are there because death or illness of one parent, or a divorce, has caused temporary removal from their own homes until new plans can be made. Unless a legal surrender is made by the parents, or ordered by a court, in case the parents are dead, these children cannot be adopted by anyone.

The largest percentage of these institution children also are around seven years of age or over. Some people want the 7, 10, or 12-year olds. A few can be persuaded to take 2, 3 or 4-year-olds. But most couples ask for babies.

Adoptions are becoming increasingly popular and they are socially approved today. This is in sharp contrast to 25 years ago when adoptions were a hush-hush matter. Deep Freeze III Operation Starts

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (AP)—Three U. S. Navy planes carrying key personnel for Deep Freeze III landed at McMurdo Sound in the Antarctic Tuesday to get this year's scientific operation into high gear.

The three planes made the 2,400-mile trip from Christchurch in a little more than 12 hours.

Temperatures of 15 degrees below zero were reported Monday at McMurdo.

A big Air Force Globemaster will leave today for McMurdo, carrying cargo for the scientific undertaking that is part of the International Geophysical Year studies.

Autumn, Fall and the Speed of Time

Here it is autumn again, a season generally regarded as one of the most delightful periods of the year.

Soon the leaves will begin to fall in ever increasing number and before long, winter will again be upon us.

Instead of being annoyed about it, let's enjoy autumn and fall while we may, always providing that weather remains as it is supposed to be during this brief time. Time passes rapidly enough and worrying will not help.

There is a welcome crispness in the air during much of autumn that seems to give many families a jolt of renewed energy after summer's heat, dust, bugs and flies, along with the job always awaiting some one, trimming the grass.

Then again there is the football season at hand and baseball's world series. There will be scores of social activities taking a new lease on the time of many individuals and perhaps improved television programs to while away the longer hours of rapidly approaching darkness of cold winter.

Something must be said for the coloring of nature's autumn and fall season. The turning of the color of leaves which means a new type of attractiveness which everyone admires.

Along with this most of us, however, cannot reject the realization of the rush of time as the days, weeks and months slip by with relentless speed.

Along with the nearness of Thanksgiving and the recognition that even Christmas is only a few paydays away comes the realization that another year has practically gone its way.

We noticed in one newspaper's comment that it is not unusual to hear people complain that they can't find the time to do all the things they want to do or that they are always pressed when getting ready for a vacation or holiday celebration. Nevertheless, a report is noted from a firm of investment counselors about the changing pattern of America's population which provides a startling reminder of how rapid is the advance of years.

According to that report 49 per cent of Americans do not remember what conditions were like before World War II, 57 per cent have no personal recollection of what a major depression is like, and 42 per cent cannot remember Russia as an active ally of the United States.

And yet to so many of us the World Wars and pre-war periods seems almost like yesterday.

To Be Lucky, Try Sweating

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the story of a man who retired at 37 and now, at 44, is supremely happy.

Here is Peter DeMet's formula for successful retirement:

"After three months, go back to work—any kind of work!"

Pete, who is blue-eyed and stocky, has the easy-going air of a born salesman. He quit high school after his sophomore year to sell cosmetic supplies on the road. Shortly after he was old enough to vote he had his own chain of beauty parlors.

Then he piled up more money as a car dealer and in 1950, having piled up enough, he quit work forever—or so he thought. No ulcers for him, no living out of pill bottles. Just long pleasant years of fishing in the Florida sun.

"I thought I was young enough to retire and enjoy myself," he recalled. "But I had been working seven days a week, and couldn't stand the letdown. It made me jumpy.

"At the end of three weeks I was picking things off the floor that weren't there. At the end of four weeks I was counting dust specks on the furniture. At the end of three months I knew I had to find something to keep me busier or I'd go crazy."

Just to keep his mind occupied DeMet bought a small Pontiac agency in Chicago—"All I really wanted was an office and a phone"—and built it into the world's largest.

From there one thing led to another. He became interested in bowling, and sank $300,000 into making "Championship Bowling," a series of 25 TV film shorts on the sport that mushroomed into a multimillion-dollar venture and led the industry to vote him bowling's "Man of the Year." He also has bought a $1,200,000 bowling alley in Coral Gables, Fla.

A friend came to ask his advice about some mining properties in Colorado. Today, somewhat to his own surprise, DeMet finds himself one of the country's major thorium producers.

Pete, against the advice of experts in the field, recently sank $400,000 into producing "All-Star Golf," a series of 13 film shorts in which such golf greats as Sam Snead, Lloyd Mangrum and Jimmy Demaret will compete for prize money totaling $80,000. It will be shown on the ABC network.

DeMet who also is investing in Florida real estate, has an interesting business philosophy:

"If you believe in a thing, do it, no matter what other people tell you.

"Once you've put your money on the wheel, relax and quit worrying until you see where the ball stops.

"Sweat makes luck. The harder you work, the luckier you are."

Footnote on the Jencks Decision

By George Sokolsky

The Jencks decision is now a closed book, Congress having passed a law, more or less, defining the purposes and uses of the BI files in courts of law.

I wrote at the time of the controversy that a group of administrative assistants to senators opposed the kind of action on the Jencks bill which was favored by the FBI and in particular, I mentioned George Arnold, son of Thurman Arnold of new deal fame, and an assistant to Sen. Neely of West Virginia who has been ill during much of the first session of the 85th Congress. Sen. Neely thereupon had published a letter in the Washington Post and Times-Herald denouncing me. The usual form of such a denunciation was pursued, namely, I was talking out of my hat, which is the easiest form of denunciation in any language.

I knew at the time that I wrote this piece that a memorandum had been circulated among senators entitled, "Memorandum on S. 2577, the Jencks Bill." The contents of the document were read to me over the telephone but I did not possess a copy. I knew that the document originated with George Arnold of Sen. Neely's office, but I was bound by confidence and journalistic tradition not to disclose the source of my information.

The memorandum comes to me now from an altogether remote source, with the obvious object of covering the original source of supply. I am convinced that the document now before me is authentic and as it was presented to several senators who saw it before I did and to whom it is known as coming from the source which I indicate.

I do not deny the right of any citizen to favor or oppose any measure that appears before Congress. I only oppose secrecy. I only oppose the deceit of secrecy.

Lobbying is not only conducted by great corporations, by labor unions or by pressure groups. It is also conducted within Congress by blocs that organize themselves to achieve an end. There is nothing wrong in this except its secrecy, its cloak of deceit, its effort to accomplish something different from what the public official, elected or appointed, says publicly that he is doing.

I find nothing in the document before me to which a man opposed to the "save-the-FBI-files" bill should not subscribe. As a matter of fact, senators did subscribe to it. But when I am charged with falsehood for saying that a particular senator subscribed to these views, he knowing that senators received the memorandum from his office, then it becomes a matter of public concern because either Jencks or hypocrisy is involved.

The concluding reached by the memorandum before me reads: "It is submitted that the Jencks bill can be made to conform to Rule 17 (C) and its court interpretations by further amendments to the bill, which would (1) provide that any statement of report of a witness which was relevant may be produced for the defendant's inspection, (2) leave to the court the determination in individual cases of what statements or reports, whether authenticated or not or whether they are verbatim or summary, should be given to the defendant under the test of relevancy, and (3) leave to the court the discretionary power to set the time of delivery."

The upshot of this document is that defendants should see all the government's case prior to the witnesses being called. In the case of Fryer v. U. S. which is cited, the court is quoted to have so held:

"No sound reasons were offered by the government, and we can think of none, for precluding pretrial inspection of such material. No objection was or could have been made to disclosing the identity of informants through such material. The government had already furnished appellant with a list of witnesses whose statements were sought." (207 F. (2d) at 137.)

If that is what men believe should be the law, they are entitled to say so, but they are not entitled to circulate a memorandum setting forth these views and then denying that they hold these views or are propagating that other should hold them.

In sum, it is not necessary in the United States to employ Aesopian language. One can still say what he means so long as he does not seek to overthrow the government by force and violence.

The federation decrees fewer pockets. So, points out Aitch Kay, the office Beau Brummel, we men will be out of pocket to start with.

The heat but not so gaudy Mr. Kay also warns that next year many an unwary male may find himself breathing in shorter pants.

A suggested innovation for business suits is zebra-like stripes in white and black. The only color-fighting angle about this is that it couldn't possibly be as monotonous as charcoal gray.

According to our elegant friend Aitch, aquamarine will be a basic color. Not to mention blushing pink?

Trousers that button at the ankle, is another prediction. Can this possibly be a forward step in the march of progress?

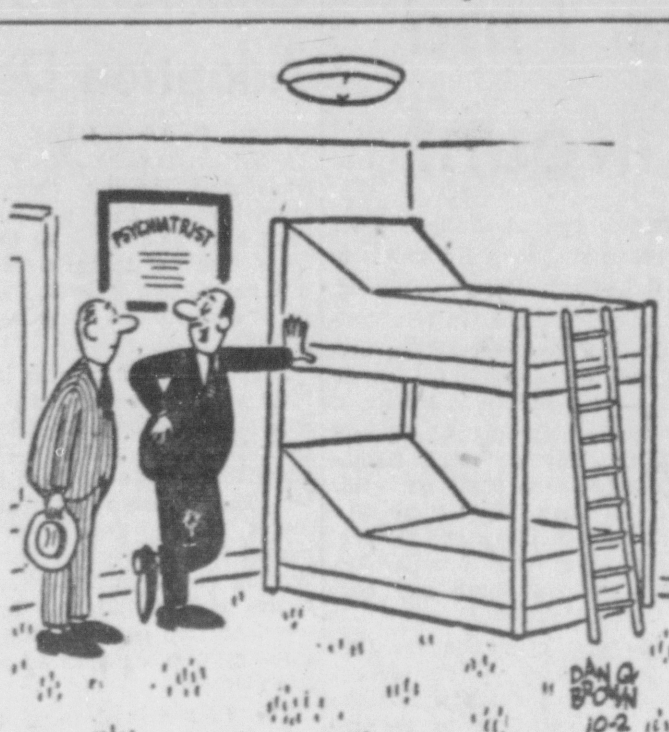

It's obvious the French are trying to take the place of London's Savile row as dictators of masculine attire. However, whatever is the case, warns the smartly-tailored Mr. Kay, it appears we guys are in for a ripping time.

Appendicitis Attack Dangerous for Baby

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

An appendicitis attack is a serious thing for anyone, but it is especially dangerous when the victim is an infant. The infant death rate from appendicitis is higher than that for adults.

Time is precious when that little tot of yours is ill.

As with adults, abdominal pain, localized tenderness and vomiting are the chief symptoms of appendicitis in children. But there are other things parents should watch for, too.

An infant with an abdominal pain probably will be irritable and restless. He will not sleep well.

If vomiting is severe, the youngster may also be constipated, although this is not always the case with appendicitis.

It's especially advisable to be alert for any of these symptoms following an acute infectious disease, a respiratory infection or gastroenteritis.

Try to determine just when these symptoms appeared, especially if they are linked with such disturbances as fever, changes in the child's sleep pattern, refusal to eat and similar occurrences.

The temperature of the child, his pulse rate and the white blood cell count doesn't help much in determining whether the illness is appendicitis. The only way to diagnose the situation is by physical examination of the baby.

Here, too, you parents can help the doctor. Probably the easiest and quickest way of conducting a preliminary examination is to permit the infant to lie on his mother's lap while still fully clothed.

After the physician determines whether there is any localized tenderness, he can make a more thorough examination.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House is no stranger to excitement, but it hasn't seen lately an episode like Tuesday's.

The lobby was jammed with newsmen. They overflowed into the driveway in front of the executive offices. A sort of rear guard was posted at the side door, just in case the four Southern governors meeting with President Eisenhower on the Little Rock situation should come out that way.

Minutes, then hours dragged past. The noise level rose to a pitch just short of a shriek.

Then a door opened and the reporters and cameramen who brought you the story surged into the office of press secretary James C. Hagerty. Surged? They all but tumbled in. Once in, they stood, sat and perched on bookcases.

Hagerty stood behind his desk, arms, folded, smiling the faint smile that signals to White House veterans: this is a big story, men.

It was, too.

The Southern governors telegraphed it also. White-carnationed Luther Hodges of North Carolina fingered a copy of the joint statement by the White House and the governors. The mobile features of Maryland's Theodore R. McKeldin were in constant motion. Florida's prematurely gray Leroy Collins and Tennessee's equally handsome Frank Clement showed similar eagerness.

Hagerty had the privilege of announcing the news, as spokesman for President Eisenhower. It meant: if Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus would pledge to maintain law and order and not to interfere with federal court orders, Eisenhower would pull U.S. troops out of Little Rock. The governors said Faubus was ready to make such a pledge.

It looked as if the gravest integration crisis to date might be peacefully resolved.

And then the bottom began to fall out.

First, Faubus' "assurance" came through from Little Rock. He said he never intended to obstruct the orders of the federal courts—although a U.S. court has accused him of doing just that. He said he was prepared "as I have always been" to maintain law and order—for all that Eisenhower has indirectly blamed him for stirring up mob violence.

"I now declare," said the governor, "that upon withdrawal of federal troops, I will again assume full responsibility . . . for the maintenance of law and order, and that the orders of the federal courts will not be obstructed by me."

There were more hours of waiting. Finally, at midnight, approached, Eisenhower issued a statement which for all practical purposes told the governor of Arkansas: You didn't go far enough.

Eisenhower said Faubus' statement doesn't guarantee he will use his full powers to prevent obstruction of court orders. And so, said the President, there is nothing to do but keep the federal troops on duty and hope both sides will keep trying to work out a solution.

The throng of newsmen had

We noticed in one newspaper's comment that it is not unusual to hear people complain that they can't find the time to do all the things they want to do or that they are always pressed when getting ready for a vacation or holiday celebration. Nevertheless, a report is noted from a firm of investment counselors about the changing pattern of America's population which provides a startling reminder of how rapid is the advance of years.

According to that report 49 per cent of Americans do not remember what conditions were like before World War II, 57 per cent have no personal recollection of what a major depression is like, and 42 per cent cannot remember Russia as an active ally of the United States.

And yet to so many of us the World Wars and pre-war periods seems almost like yesterday.

To Be Lucky, Try Sweating

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the story of a man who retired at 37 and now, at 44, is supremely happy.

Here is Peter DeMet's formula for successful retirement:

"After three months, go back to work—any kind of work!"

Pete, who is blue-eyed and stocky, has the easy-going air of a born salesman. He quit high school after his sophomore year to sell cosmetic supplies on the road. Shortly after he was old enough to vote he had his own chain of beauty parlors.

Then he piled up more money as a car dealer and in 1950, having piled up enough, he quit work forever—or so he thought. No pillars for him, no living out of pill bottles. Just long pleasant years of fishing in the Florida sun.

"I thought I was young enough to retire and enjoy myself," he recalled. "But I had been working seven days a week, and couldn't stand the lockdown. It made me jumpy.

"At the end of three weeks I was picking things off the floor that weren't there. At the end of four weeks I was counting dust specks on the furniture. At the end of three months I knew I had to find something to keep me busier or I'd go crazy."

Just to keep his mind occupied DeMet bought a small Pontiac agency in Chicago—"All I really wanted was an office and a phone"—and built it into the world's largest.

From there one thing led to another. He became interested in bowling, and sank $300,000 into making "Championship Bowling," a series of 26 TV film shorts on the sport that mushroomed into a multimillion-dollar venture and led the industry to vote him bowling's "Man of the Year." He also has bought a $1,200,000 bowling alley in Coral Gables, Fla.

Footnote on the Jencks Decision

The Jencks decision is now a closed book, Congress having passed a law, more or less, defining the purposes and uses of the BI files in courts of law.

I find nothing in the document before me to which a man opposed to the "save-the-FBI-files" bill should not subscribe. As a matter of fact, senators did subscribe to it. But when I am charged with falsehood for saying that a particular senator subscribed to these views, he knowing that senators received the memorandum from his office, then it becomes a matter of public concern because either Jencks or hypocrisy is involved.

The concluding reached by the memorandum before me reads: "It is submitted that the Jencks bill can be made to conform to Rule 17 (C) and its court interpretations by further amendments to the bill, which would (1) provide that any statement or report of a witness which was relevant may be produced for the defendant's inspection, (2) leave to the court the determination in individual cases of what statements or reports, whether authenticated or not or whether they are verbatim or summary, should be given to the defendant under the test of relevancy, and (3) leave to the court the discretionary power to set the time of delivery."

The upshot of this document is that defendants should see all the government's case prior to the witnesses being called. In the case of Fryer v. U. S. which is cited, the court is quoted to have so held:

"No sound reasons were offered by the government, and we can think of none, for precluding pretrial inspection of such material. No objection was or could have been made to disclosing the identity of informants through such material. The government had already furnished appellant with a list of witnesses whose statements were sought." (207 F. (2d) at 137.)

If that is what men believe should be the law, they are entitled to say so, but they are not entitled to circulate a memorandum setting forth these views and then denying that they hold these views or are propagating that other should hold them.

In sum, it is not necessary in the United States to employ Aesopian language. One can still say what he means so long as he does not seek to overthrow the government by force and violence.

In Paris the French Federation of Tailors announces its ideas of what mere males should wear in 1958. If they put 'em over man will have lost his last weapon in the war between the sexes—his right to laugh at feminine fashions.

The federation decrees fewer pockets. So, points out Aitch Kay, the office Beau Brummel, we men will be out of pocket to start with.

The neat but not gaudy Mr. Kay also warns that next year many an unwary male may find himself breathing in shorter pants.

A suggested innovation for business suits is zebra-like stripes in white and black. The only confounding angle about this is that it couldn't possibly be as monotonous as charcoal gray.

According to our elegant friend Aitch, aquamarine will be a basic color. Not to mention blushing pink.

Trousers that button at the ankle, is another prediction. Can this possibly be a forward step in the march of progress?

It's obvious the French are trying to take the place of London's Savile row as dictators of masculine attire. However, whatever is the case, warns the smartly-tailored Mr. Kay, it appears we guys are in for a ripping time.

JIM BRITT, of Detroit, tells of a visit paid to Guadalcanal by Adm. "Bull" Halsey at a time when the Marines were having a tough time clearing out Japanese bitter-enders.

"The mess sergeant's doing the best he can with the junk he has to work with," Gen. Vandergrift told Halsey, "but his morale is sagging. A little compliment from you would buck him up no end."

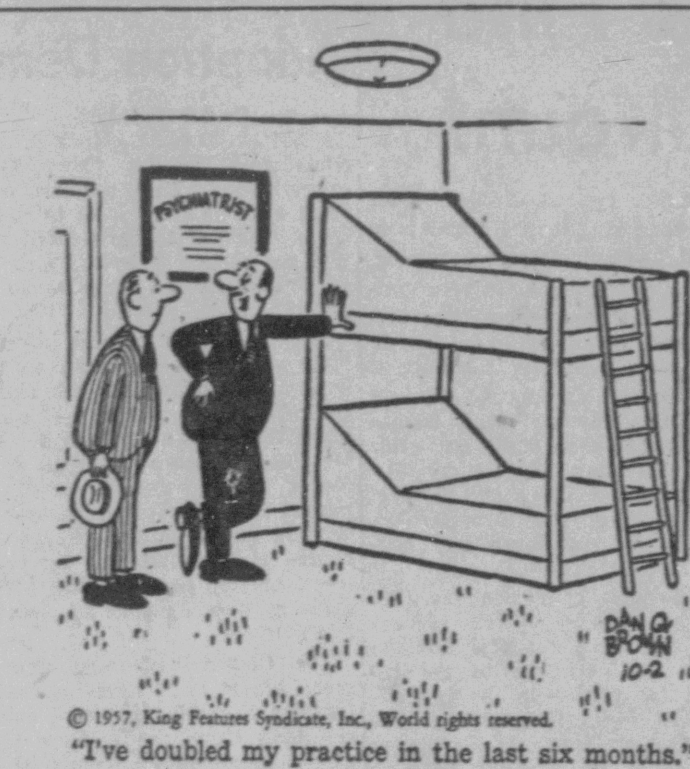

So when the first meal had been served, the "Bull" sent for the sergeant, and said with a straight face, "I've been on lots of ships noted for 'good feeding,' but this was as good a lunch as I've ever eaten."

"Nuts, Admiral; quit your kidding!" said the sergeant. Then he gave an A-No. 1 Marine salute, wheeled about, and marched back to his kitchen.

Heard about the gossip columnist headed for Paris by plane? His baggage was 70 pounds overweight, so he just dropped a couple of hundred names.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

An appendicitis attack is a serious thing for anyone, but it is especially dangerous when the victim is an infant. The infant death rate from appendicitis is higher than that for adults.

Immediate diagnosis of an attack is essential because the course of an acute case of appendicitis in children is very rapid. While only a doctor can make a diagnosis, it's up to your parents to know when to call him.

Time is precious when that little tot of yours is ill.

As with adults, abdominal pain, localized tenderness and vomiting are the chief symptoms of appendicitis in children. But there are other things parents should watch for, too.

An infant with an abdominal pain probably will be irritable and restless. He will not sleep well.

If vomiting is severe, the youngster may also be constipated, although this is not always the case with appendicitis.

It's especially advisable to be alert for any of these symptoms following an acute infectious disease, a respiratory infection or gastroenteritis.

Try to determine just when these symptoms appeared, especially if they are linked with such disturbances as fever, changes in the child's sleep pattern, refusal to eat and similar occurrences.

Health Service's Flu Policy Holds

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Public Health Service advisory committee is sticking to the original recommendation for one dose of one cubic centimeter of Asian flu vaccine injected under the skin, for general use on adults.

For children under 5, the committee says, two doses of one-tenth of a cubic centimeter each, administered intracutaneously between layers of skin and separated by an interval of at least a week, are acceptable procedure.

The Health Service said the Committee on Influenza Vaccine made its general recommendation after considering the possibility of using for adults one-tenth of a cubic centimeter of vaccine administered intracutaneously.

Detroit Feared Hit By Asian Flu Epidemic

DETROIT (AP)—A disease believed to be Asian flu has reached epidemic proportions in several sections of Detroit, Dr. Joseph G. Molner, health commissioner, says.

Absenteeism in public and parochial schools climbed to 54,000, about 36,000 more than the number expected at this time of year, he said. The absenteeism total is about 15 per cent of the total enrollment.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House is no stranger to excitement, but it hasn't seen lately an episode like Tuesday's.

The lobby was jammed with newsmen. They overflowed into the driveway in front of the executive offices. A sort of rear guard was posted at the side door, just in case the four Southern governors meeting with President Eisenhower on the Little Rock situation should come out that way.

Minutes, then hours dragged past. The noise level rose to a pitch just short of a shriek.

Then a door opened and the reporters and cameramen who brought you the story surged into the office of press secretary James C. Hagerty. Surged? They all but tumbled in. Once in, they stood, sat and perched on bookcases.

Hagerty stood behind his desk, arms folded, smiling the faint smile that signals to White House veterans: this is a big story, men.

It was, too.

The Southern governors telegraphed it also. White-carnationed Luther Hodges of North Carolina fingered a copy of the joint statement by the White House and the governors. The mobile features of Maryland's Theodore R. McKeldin were in constant motion. Florida's prematurely gray Leroy Collins and Tennessee's equally handsome Frank Clement showed similar eagerness.

Hagerty had the privilege of announcing the news, as spokesman for President Eisenhower. It meant: if Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus would pledge to maintain law and order and not to interfere with federal court orders, Eisenhower would pull U.S. troops out of Little Rock. The governors said Faubus was ready to make such a pledge.

It looked as if the gravest integration crisis to date might be peacefully resolved.

And then the bottom began to fall out.

First, Faubus' "assurance" came through from Little Rock. He said he never intended to obstruct the orders of the federal courts—although a U.S. court has dwindled by the time the President's final statement was issued. The pro-and-con pickets who had marched for a time outside the White House gates had long since gone away.

One thing seemed certain: nine Negro children would go to school in Little Rock today still under the protection of the U.S. Army. Beyond that, it wasn't safe to predict.

There were more hours of waiting. Finally, as midnight approached, Eisenhower issued a statement which for all practical purposes told the governor of Arkansas: You didn't go far enough.

Eisenhower said Faubus' statement doesn't guarantee he will use his full powers to prevent obstruction of court orders. And so, said the President, there is nothing to do but keep the federal troops on duty and hope both sides will keep trying to work out a solution.

Miss Betty Jean Coil Weds Mr. Harold W. Anderson

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD W. ANDERSON

The Jeffersonville Methodist Church was the setting for the Sept. 21 wedding of Miss Betty Jean Coil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Coil, Route 1, Jeffersonville, and Mr. Harold W. Anderson, son of Mrs. Carl Ellis, London and Mr. Woodrow Anderson, Springfield.

The double-ring candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. Clarence R. Williamson at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Mr. Oliver Vannorsdall, organist and vocalist, accompanied by Miss Karma K. Knox, presented a program of traditional nuptial music prior to the ceremony.

The altar of the church was beautifully decorated with candelabra, baskets of white chrysanthemums and pom poms. The windows were marked with candles and the pews with white satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, styled with a fitted bodice and long perling sleeves of lace and highlighted with a Peter Pan collar. The very bouffant ballerina length gown was fashioned of alternating lace and tulle over a full tiered underskirt of tulle. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was attached to a dainty band of hand made net flowers, highlighted with seed pearls. She wore a pearl bracelet, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

The maid of honor, Miss Jerry Lou Davidson, Middletown, was attired in a ballerina length gown of tulle and ivory velvet and silk chiffon, fashioned with a fitted bodice of velvet. The full gathered skirt of chiffon was designed over taffeta with a scooped neckline and a pleated cummerbund and Paris bows in the back. She wore a matching headpiece of nylon tulle and dark velvet with a face veil and she carried a bouquet of broche pom poms and ivy.

The bridesmaids were Miss Beverly Allen, a roommate at Ohio State University, Mrs. Ronald Thompson, Washington C. H., and Mrs. William Alsbaugh, Sedalia, a cousin of the bride. They wore identical gowns to that of the maid of honor, in orange and pom pom, and carried the bouquets of nery pom poms and ivy. Their headpieces were of dark pom pom velvet and the veils were nylon tulle to match the chiffon of their gowns.

The flower girls were Hazel Marie Garringer, Jeffersonville, and Debra Diane Alsbaugh, Sedalia. They were attired in ivory velvet dresses with head bands to match and they carried baskets of white pom poms. Richard Spencer of Springfield, was the ring bearer.

The best man was Charles Wesley of Cincinnati, a cousin of the groom.

The ushers were Elden Leeth, Sedalia, cousin of the bride; Rob-

Miss Betty Jean Coil Weds Mr. Harold W. Anderson

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD W. ANDERSON

The Jeffersonville Methodist Church was the setting for the Sept. 21 wedding of Miss Betty Jean Coil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Coil, Route 1, Jeffersonville, and Mr. Harold W. Anderson, son of Mr. Carl Ellis, London and Mr. Woodrow Anderson, Springfield.

The double-ring candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. Clarence R. Williamson at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Mr. Oliver Vannorsdall, organist and vocalist, accompanied by Miss Karma K. Knox, presented a program of traditional nuptial music prior to the ceremony.

The altar of the church was beautifully decorated with candelabra, baskets of white chrysanthemums and pom poms. The windows were marked with candles and the pews with white-satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, styled with a fitted bodice and long pering sleeves of lace and nighlighted with a Peter Pan collar. The very bouffant ballerina length gown was fashioned of alternating lace and tulle over a full tiered underskirt of tulle. Her fingertip veil of French illusion' was attached to a dainty band of hand made net flowers, highlighted with seed pearls. She wore a pearl bracelet, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

The maid of honor, Miss Jerry Lou Davidson, Middletown, was attired in a ballerina length gown of nery and lovebird veivet and silk cnifion, fashioned with a fitted bodice of velvet. The full gathered skirt of cnifion was designed over taffeta with a scooped neckline and a pleated cummerbund and Paris bows in the back. She wore a matching headpiece of nylon tulle and dark veivet with a face veil and she carried a bouquet of brohze pom poms and ivy.

The bridesmaids were Miss Beverly Allen, a roommate at Ohio State University, Mrs. Ronald Thompson, Washington C. H., and Mrs. William Aispaugh, Sedalia, a cousin of the bride. They wore identical gowns to that of the maid of honor, in orange and pom pom, and carried the pouquets of nery pom poms and ivy. Their headpieces were of dark pom pom veivet and the veils were nylon tulle to match the cnifion of their gowns.

The flower girls were Hazel Marie Garringer, Jeffersonville, and Debra Diane Alspaugh, Sedalia. They were attired in lovebird veivet dresses with head bands to match and they carried baskets of white pom poms. Richard Spencer of Springfield, was the ring bearer.

The best man was Charles Wesley of Cincinnati, a cousin of the groom.

The ushers were Elden Leeth, Sedalia, cousin of the bride; Rob-

George Washington's Snack May Be Revived This Fall

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Deviled soft herring roe served on sippets (small triangles of fried bread), a favorite snack of George Washington, may well be the piece de resistance on the hors d'oeuvre tray at local cocktail parties this season.

This delicacy is being served as a starter of a dinner of authentic favorite foods of our first president in the newly opened Presidential Room (formerly a popular cocktail lounge known as the "Snakepit") of one of the capital's famous hotels. Other typical dinners of presidents, including one featuring Jefferson's baked shad and his favorite asparagus, will follow.

Consultant in the planning of the dinners "reviving the tradition of presidential hospitality" is Helen Bullock, historian of the National Trust for Historic Preservation, and a noted authority on early American cookery. The hotel is a corporate member of the trust.

Mrs. Bullock, a former archivist for historic Williamsburg, authored the "Williamsburg Art of Cookery," and recommended menus adapted from basic early recipes to be served in the town's early inns.

She also adapted Martha Washington's "Great Cake" from the original 40-egg recipe to be sold at Woodlawn Plantation, the home Washington built for his foster daughter, Nellie Custis.

"We are catering to the revived interest in the American past in seeing that our historic houses, especially, get authentic recipes," Mrs. Bullock explained. "In so doing we are helping houses, through themselves more adequately than they can from tourists' admission fees."

The dinner highlighting four favorite dishes Washington served guests at Mount Vernon begins with a clear "savory" tomato soup made from a traditional recipe used by Washington himself.

Next follows roast squab, with oyster, celery and herb stuffing, served with a sliver of Smithfield ham, pickled crab apple, roasted potatoes, globe artichoke, and one of the many varieties of peas Washington raised. The artichoke is served separately with a boiled Virginia dressing of egg yolk, mustard, vinegar, butter and seasoning. Dessert is a molded blanc mange pudding with brandied apricot sauce served with macaroons, maids-of-honor, savory biscuits.

Biblical Slab Draws Opposition

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—A 1,400-pound marble slab inscribed with the Ten Commandments and donated by the Youngstown Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles has been installed in a City Hall entrance-way in spite of a protest from the Civil Liberties Union.

The Civil Liberties Union passed a resolution declaring that Mayor Frank X. Kryzan's acceptance of the gift last July violated the American concept of separation of church and state.

Mayor Kryzan replied to the CLU that Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish clergymen all had approved the project.

Supersonic Trips Seen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Within 20 years supersonic airliners will be flying around the world in one day, predicts B. F. Coggan, vice president of Convair Aviation.

The rabbit, hare, beaver, copy and sheep are used mostly for fur in making men's hats. The copy is a member of the otter family.

'Demerit System' Traffic Law Explained at Rotary Meeting

An explanation of Ohio's new "point system" law for motor car drivers, which gives demerits for various traffic law violations, was given before Rotarians and guests at the club's Tuesday luncheon meeting at the Country Club.

The speaker was Highway Patrolman Rodney R. Sheline, who has been stationed in Fayette County for several years.

Presented by Paul Pennington of the October program committee, Sheline briefly outlined the high points of the new law and added interest by asking for questions. Inquiries and suggestions came thick and fast from the floor and Sheline was kept busy with answers for the greater part of his speaking period.

In the course of his talk, he gave the list of traffic violations

for which demerits are given by the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles after a driver's record of conviction in a court, is forwarded by the clerk of a court of record to the state bureau.

THE demerit points provided in this law are:

Manslaughter resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle, 6 points;
Operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic drug, 6 points;
Failing to stop and disclose identity at the scene of the accident when required by law, 6 points;
Driving while operator's or chauffeur's license is under suspension or revocation, 6 points;

Reckless operation in violation of section 4511.20 of the Revised Code or ordinance in conformity thereto, if based upon any factor other than speed, 3 points;
Violation of any law or ordinance pertaining to speed, 2 points;

All other moving violations pertaining to the operation of motor vehicles reported under this section of law, 2 points.

Among the law's requirements particularly pointed out by Sheline were that under this new law, every county court judge, every mayor (until Jan. 1, 1960), and every clerk of any court or record is required to keep a full and complete record of traffic violations and convictions within that court's jurisdiction, as outlined in the law.

WHEN THE number of demerit points reaches a total of 12 within a period of two years from the date of the first conviction, the registrar of motor cars is required to file an application with the clerk of the Common Pleas Court in the county where the offender resides, requesting suspension of the violator's license or permit to drive for a period of one year. In case of child the matter is referred to the county juvenile court.

Within 10 days after such application is filed, the court to which the matter is referred must send to the person charged a notice of a court hearing to take place within 30 days.

At such hearing the court must decide whether the driver is an habitual traffic law violator. If found guilty, the court may suspend the driving rights for one year as requested or it may withhold all or part of the suspension by setting certain conditions. All court costs are assessed against the driver.

Patrolman Sheline voiced his personal belief that the new law is good and has worked well in other states. He called attention to the fact that a law violator called into court may receive a sentence which would include suspension of license to drive, thus not requiring additional action by the state or another court.

Student guests from Washington C. H. High School, Jack and Hank Anders were introduced by John Ellcessor at the meeting.

The club sang birthday greetings for President Robert Haigler, Dr. Stewart B. Smith, Paul Arthur and Dr. Fred Woollard.

Other guests were Kenneth Martin of Marysville, Tenn. with Ansel Kirkpatrick; Martin Hecht, alumni secretary of Ohio University with Supt. W. A. Smith; Walter Coit with Paul Arthur; Richard Hall of Chillicothe with Paul Pennington; Samuel Wilson with Richard Whiteside; Robert Storms of Dayton with Joseph Peters.

Embezzlement Is 'Difficult' In Ohio, State Auditor Says

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, Ohio — Embezzlement by public officials is becoming more difficult in Ohio.

That is the opinion of State Auditor James A. Rhodes, who, as auditor, heads the State Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices.

About 250 examiners in the bureau make periodic reports to him on the books and records of public offices from the state level on down to the "grass roots."

A recent rash or embezzlement cases raised the question in some quarters as to whether public officials were becoming more dishonest.

"Emphatically not," Rhodes said. "Almost all public officials are honest and their accounting constantly is becoming more proficient."

Rhodes attributed the rash of small embezzlement cases to:

1. More frequent checks of public books and records by state examiners.
2. Better cooperation by local officials in asking special state examinations whenever wrongdoing is suspected.

"At least half of the shortages that we have brought to light this year," Rhodes said, "have resulted from the suspicions of other public officials."

"Then, too, we have caught up for the most part in the big backlog of long-overdue examinations which we inherited. Some extended back nearly a decade."

"Even with a reduced force of state examiners, the Bureau of Inspection is making more examinations than ever before, it is only natural that the more you dig, the more you will find."

The digging, he added, uncovered more cases of embezzlement this year than during any similar period in recent years.

One of the cases involved a privately employed salesman accused of overcharging Carroll County about $30,000 for tires since 1948. County officials and his employer were unaware of the situation until examiners ran it down, Rhodes reported.

The largest finding against a public official during the period was for about $600. Most were for small sums. A total of 367 audits last August and September turned up four embezzlement cases involving public officials.

Prosecution of cases uncovered by examiners is up to county and municipal officials under Ohio law.

Rhodes termed efforts to bring examinations up to date a part of his program to streamline office operations through use of modern business machines and special training for employees. The results will be increased savings to taxpayers, he asserted.

Re-elected last year, Rhodes is the only elected official in an administrative state office serving a four-year term. Other elective state officials, from the governor on down, are serving for two years. But a voter approved change in the constitution will make the terms of those offices four years, starting in 1959.

Instead of running for any other office next year, Rhodes said he will campaign for the Republican state of candidates, expected to be headed by Gov. C. William O'Neill.

During his first term as auditor, Rhodes ran unsuccessfully against Frank J. Lausche, now U. S. Senator, in Lausche's bid for a fifth term as governor. Because the campaign took place during his four-year term, Rhodes continued as auditor despite his defeat in the gubernatorial race.

He expressed belief that Ohioans and their newspapers are becoming more alert to public inefficiency and wrongdoing.

Civil Defense Crew To Go to Blue Ash

Members of the crew of the Washington C. H. mobile rescue unit of the Civil Defense Corps are getting ready for a second trip in as many weekends.

Last Sunday, about half on the crew of 20 took the unit's specially equipped to the Roosevelt state park in Scioto County for field maneuvers of the 11th Mobile Support Group.

Next Sunday, the crew has been asked to go to area headquarters at Blue Ash, east of Cincinnati, for a memorial service for Al Patterson, who had been active in Civil Defense work. Their service is to be held at 3:30 p. m. and the crew members are to wear their blue uniforms.

Capt. Uhel Schwartz said the crew members will meet at the park on Millikan Ave. at 12:30 p. m. and leave from there together, either in private cars or the unit's truck. He said he was not yet certain how many of the crew will go.

Thomas L. Smith, who headed the radio section last Sunday, will be there, however, because he is to handle communications at Blue Ash.

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Ohio spent more than twice as much on medical bills for old age pensioners last month as it did in September, 1956, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reports.

The increase came despite a drop of almost 50 per cent in the number of cases handled, Rhodes said Tuesday.

Last month, according to his report, the state spent $706,951 in 4,497 cases. A year ago, it spent $306,344 in 8,670 cases.

September pension payments were also up from a year ago. Payments totaling $6,240,437 went to 93,709 of Ohio's aged last month under the state's Aid for the Aged program. In September, 1956, some 97,383 persons received a total of $5,941,637.

'Demerit System' Traffic Law Explained at Rotary Meeting

An explanation of Ohio's new "point system" law for motor car drivers, which gives demerits for various traffic law violations, was given before Rotarians and guests at the club's Tuesday luncheon meeting at the Country Club.

The speaker was Highway Patrolman Rodney R. Sheline, who has been stationed in Fayette County for several years.

Presented by Paul Pennington of the October program committee, Sheline briefly outlined the high points of the new law and added interest by asking for questions. Inquiries and suggestions came thick and fast from the floor and Sheline was kept busy with answers for the greater part of his speaking period. In the course of his talk, he gave the list of traffic violations

for which demerits are given by the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles after a driver's record of conviction in a court, is forwarded by the clerk of a court of record to the state bureau.

THE demerit points provided in this law are:

Manslaughter resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle, 6 points;
Operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic drug, 6 points;
Failing to stop and disclose identity at the scene of the accident when required by law, 6 points;
Driving while operator's or chauffeur's license is under suspension or revocation, 6 points;
Reckless operation in violation of section 4511.20 of the Revised Code or ordinance in conformity thereto, if based upon any factor other than speed, 3 points;
Violation of any law or ordinance pertaining to speed, 2 points;
All other moving violations pertaining to the operation of motor vehicles reported under this section of law, 2 points.

Among the law's requirements particularly pointed out by Sheline were that under this new law, every county court judge, every mayor (until Jan. 1, 1960), and every clerk of any court or record is required to keep a full and complete record of traffic violations and convictions within that court's jurisdiction, as outlined in the law.

WHEN the number of demerit points reaches a total of 12 within a period of two years from the date of the first conviction, the registrar of motor cars is required to file an application with the clerk of the Common Pleas Court in the county where the offender resides, requesting suspension of the violator's license or permit to drive for a period of one year. In case of child the matter is referred to the county juvenile court.

Within 10 days after such application is filed, the court to which the matter is referred must send to the person charged a notice of a court hearing to take place within 30 days.

At such hearing the court must decide whether the driver is an habitual traffic law violator. If found guilty, the court may suspend the driving rights for one year as requested or it may withhold all or part of the suspension by setting certain conditions. All court costs are assessed against the driver.

Patrolman Sheline voiced his personal belief that the new law is good and has worked well in other states. He called attention to the fact that a law violator called into court may receive a sentence which would include suspension of license to drive, thus not requiring additional action by the state or another court.

Student guests from Washington C. H. High School, Jack and Hank Anders were introduced by John Ellicott at the meeting.

The club sang birthday greetings for President Robert Haigler, Dr. Stewart B. Smith, Paul Arthur and Dr. Fred Woollard.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Hickory nut time has rolled around once more and I note that most of the hickory nut trees are bearing a good crop of nuts this year. They are falling rapidly now.

Recently while driving along an isolated township road, I saw a hickory tree at the roadside. Halting, I soon picked up several dozens of the nuts from the road.

First persons in this area to gather and store nuts were the Indians. That was long, long before Columbus allegedly discovered America. I say allegedly because evidence has been piling up to indicate that other white men had discovered America before Columbus reached its eastern shores.

Then, until comparatively few years ago, people gathered and stored hickory nuts for use during the long winter months. On the farm, until the coming of the automobile, there was comparatively little travel at night and people remained at home much of the time.

Cracking and eating hickory nuts, particularly at night when neighbors dropped in, was always an occasion to be looked forward to and then remembered afterward.

Now, with few trees, compared to what there used to be, many nuts go to waste because there is such a small demand for them. However, what is better than a delicious hickory nut cake, or even the nuts themselves!

Abundance of all kinds of nuts in the markets at all times has crowded out the native nuts.

UNUSUAL GUN

Probably the most unusual gun exhibited at the Sunday meeting of the Central Ohio Gun and Indian Relic Collectors at the Fairground here, was a .78 calibre, 6½ foot barrel, British rampart gun made between 1790 and 1815.

It was an old flintlock, and it must have had a tremendous recoil when it was fired. It was a shoulder gun with walnut stock like so many of the rifles and shotguns.

The old British rampart gun was usually loaded with several small bullets, or slugs, and when fired into the ranks of an advancing enemy, would kill or wound several persons each time it was fired.

Being muzzleloader, it required much time to reload such a long barreled weapon.

A Dayton exhibitor had the gun on display and it was not for sale.

AUXILIARY PLEASED

Auxiliary members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars post here felt highly complimented during the recent gun show here, for which the organization furnished lunch, when it was invited to provide lunch at the next meeting of the Ohio State Gun Collectors, which will be held in the Veterans Memorial Building in Columbus, Dec. 14 and 15. The invitation was due to the good service rendered at the local meetings.

HORN OWL VISITOR

Throughout the county in the early days the almost incessant eerie "who! who!" of the big horn owls, or "hoot owls" as they were more commonly called, made the nights more or less a nightmare, until persons became accustomed to the noisy calls.

Now the hoot of one of these owls within the county is more or less a rarity, and two or three of my friends have said they would call me when they hear their next owl hoot, so I can also hear it.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cockerill, who reside east of Route 70, first farm north of the Blue Rock quarries, are visited frequently by one of these big owls, which perches in a large maple tree on their lawn.

However, he rarely hoots unless a rain is pending, and then his calls are rather subdued. Most of the time the big bird stays in the trees along Paint Creek near the quarry.

Apparently the owl is without a mate, for he is always alone and his calls are never answered. Just before dawn is when the owl usually does his subdued hooting; he is rarely heard at other times.

Until a few years ago a pair of wood ducks had their nest in a large opening in the same maple tree, and when the youngsters were still quite small, they were forced from the nest, would tumble to the ground, and then the mother duck would lead the way to Paint Creek where they plunged in without hesitation. Now the wood ducks nest in trees along Paint Creek.

The wood ducks, so called because of their tree - nesting habits, are the most beautiful of the many species of ducks.

Heart Attacks Seen Killing As Many Hunters as Guns

By DION HENDERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Every year, hundreds of Americans go hunting who haven't the heart for it. Literally.

And scores of them die. Just how many, nationwide, is one of the appalling mysteries that the statisticians have yet to figure. But although the extent of the over-all toll is unknown, there is some evidence that the mortality caused afield by overburdened hearts approaches that of negligent gunfire.

For instance, last fall three hunters died of gunshot during Wisconsin's nine-day deer season, but nine—three times as many—died of heart attacks while hunting deer during the same period. The year before, eight were shot to death, 12 were heart victims.

With heavy campaigns for gun safety education underway for some years, the hunting safety rate—from firearms—has shown a marked percentage decrease. Among big game states, for instance, New Hampshire went two years without a fatality, Utah lost only one life by gunshot and Wyoming hunting was pronounced as "safe as checkers" with one casualty for 140,000 man-seasons. Nebraska reeled up six straight.

Lack of statistics, and consequent lack of alarming over-all totals, may explain why no heart safety campaign anywhere near comparable to the gun safety drives have been inspired. Michigan, which has become aware of its considerable toll, now is trying to stir up some interest in saving the hearts as well as the hides of its hunters.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, the state health commission, has written a hunters' guide for the Michigan conservation department.

Most important, Dr. Heustis notes, is the information a hunter's doctor can give him, preferably just before a trip is planned, and with the trip in mind.

Overeating, excessive smoking and drinking, emotional excitement, lack of rest and sleep and of course the unaccustomed exercise all constitute factors that should be considered by the individual in light of his own case. The casualty rate from heart failure should, after all, be easier to whip than the problem of the stray bullet.

After all, you can't blame an unknown hunter half a mile away for your heart attack.

Heart Attacks Seen Killing As Many Hunters as Guns

Associated Press Staff Writer

Every year, hundreds of Americans go hunting who haven't the heart for it. Literally.

And scores of them die. Just how many, nationwide, is one of the appalling mysteries that the statisticians have yet to figure. But although the extent of the over-all toll is unknown, there is some evidence that the mortality caused by overburdened hearts approaches that of negligent gunfire.

For instance, last fall three hunters died of gunshot during Wisconsin's nine-day deer season, but nine—three times as many—died of heart attacks while hunting deer during the same period. The year before, eight were shot to death, 12 were heart victims.

With heavy campaigns for gun safety education underway for some years, the hunting safety rate—from firearms—has shown a marked percentage decrease. Among big game states, for instance, New Hampshire went two years without a fatality, Utah lost only one life by gunshot and Wyoming hunting was pronounced as "safe as checkers" with one casualty for 140,000 man-seasons. Nebraska racked up six straight drives have been inspired. Michigan, which has become aware of its considerable toll, now is trying to stir up some interest in saving the hearts as well as the hides of its hunters.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, the state health commission, has written a hunters' guide for the Michigan conservation department.

Most important, Dr. Heustis notes, is the information a hunter's doctor can give him, preferably just before a trip is planned, and with the trip in mind.

Overeating, excessive smoking and drinking, emotional excitement, lack of rest and sleep and of course the unaccustomed exercise all constitute factors that should be considered by the individual in light of his own case.

The casualty rate from heart failure should, after all, be easier to whip than the problem of the stray bullet.

Here Are More News Briefs From Midwest Grid Camps

CHICAGO (AP)—Midwest Football Briefs:

Iowa—Despite a 70-14 romp over Utah State, Coach Forest Evashevski warned we "cannot afford to make some of the mistakes of the opening game and still get by" Washington State.

Minnesota—The Gophers were put through a long and hard workout to get ready for the Purdue Boilermakers. Fullback Dick Borstad took it easy because of a bad knee.

Michigan State—There were no crippling injuries reported in the Spartan camp after the 54-0 triumph over Indiana. Michigan State looked forward to the California game on the West Coast.

Michigan—Asst. Coach Don Dufek, after scouting Georgia in its losses to Texas and Vanderbilt, said the Bulldogs are capable of giving Michigan a battle. Only casualty of the Southern Cal game was reserve center Jerry Gobel who will be ready for the Georgia battle.

Wisconsin—The Badgers came out of the Marquette game without injuries and held a light workout before listening to scouting reports on West Virginia.

Purdue—Coach Jack Mollenkopf had Purdue blocking and tackling after the 12-0 loss to Notre Dame. Mollenkopf said he is determined to get his line charging. "If we don't, Minnesota will run us out of the stadium."

Indiana—The Hoosiers went through a light practice as Coach Bob Hicks made four position changes in an effort to add speed to the team.

Illinois—Three first stringers were dropped to the second team following the 16-6 loss to UCLA. Among them was Capt. Dale Smith who was replaced by sophomore halfback Doug Wallace.

Northwestern—Coach Ara Parseghian rapped officiating in the 26-6 loss to Stanford but added "penalties alone didn't cost us the game." Only major injury was end Ben Napolski who may miss the Oregon State home opener.

Notre Dame—Center Ed Sullivan, halfback Aubrey Lewis, end Dick Royer and fullback Nick Pietrosante were injured in the Purdue game but all except Sullivan will be ready for Indiana Saturday.

Marquette—Coach Johnny Drupe put the Warriors through a two-hour workout in efforts to pep up the team. Another rugged workout is scheduled today.

Claassen's Predictions
For Last Week Faulty
But He's Brave Soul

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP)—There's always agitation for the return of the kicking phase to college football. Those agitators should see the kicks received when 12 of 44 predictions are wrong as was the case a week ago.

That dropped the season's average from .823 to .770. Last week's aggregate was .727. Here's hoping the readers will do more passing than kicking in the immediate future:

Oklahoma over Iowa State: The Sooners show their new model crusher to the home folks.

Michigan State over California:
After you've seen the World Series on TV, you can relax with Coach Duffy Daugherty as his Spartans romp over the Californians.

Navy over North Carolina: The Navy eleven this year is of the battleship class.

Baylor over Miami: Houston beat Miami, Baylor beat Houston.
Ohio State over Washington:
Neither team has shown to advantage so far but the Buckeyes should take this one.

Notre Dame over Indiana: Aubrety I wish to give the Hoosiers a long, dreary afternoon.

Iowa over Washington State:
The West Coast team's passing attack no match for Iowa's defensive-minded Hawkeyes.

Michigan over Georgia: The Wolverines get ready for the big game with Michigan State next week.

Duke over Maryland: It is homecoming for Duke and the McElhenny cavort.

Basilio's Welter Title Is Vacated

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The National Boxing Assn. today vacated the welterweight title of Carmen Bas-ilio, the new middleweight ruler, and then pronounced him "Boxer of the month."

Fred J. Sady, chairman of the NBA's ratings committee, said it was customary for a champion moving up to a higher division, as Basilio has done, to surrender his old title.

But, in Basilio's case, "out of consideration for his past reputation as a boxer of integrity and courage," Sady said the NBA gave him 10 days to make up his mind. The 10-day period expired today with no word from Basilio.

Lions Get Ready for Tigers

'Fighting Spirit' Grows Among Lion Gridders

The sun had nearly disappeared behind the grey evening clouds at Gardner Park Tuesday. But the Washington C. H. High School football squad was still scrimmaging, just as it had been most of the afternoon.

Two picked teams were in formation over the ball and the quarterback was calling signals.

"They know the fundamentals pretty well now," Domenico said and added: "Now we want them to work like a football team."

He explained:
"When they block, they should block hard. When they run, they should run hard. When they tackle, they should tackle hard and clear."

That's the way, the whole afternoon practice went. Boys, for example, would go diving into a tackling dummy, hitting it as if they meant to tear it loose—only to be called back and told to try again, harder.

Offense and defense both got a workout at the Tuesday practice session, with passing plays sprinkled in throughout. Domenico and Assistant Coach Marvin Merritt kept after the boys all the way to do things better and harder.

Buddy Lynch worked out in the quarterback slot for quite a while throughout the session—indicating the coaching staff may be planning to use him a good deal in the Greenfield game Friday night.
First-string quarterback Chuck Hire did the rest of the work in the quarter position.

Actually, freshman Mike 'hak-eres spent more time in the quarterback slot during the Little Miami game than either Hire, Lynch or John Campbell. But Domenico indicated he'll probably count on the Hire-Lynch duo on the tougher South Central Ohio League opener this Friday.

Halfback Bill Herman, one of the hardest workers in the Lion backfield, dropped out of practice early with a sore knee, but indications were he'd be back on duty by Wednesday night.

Other than that, changes were not too noticeable—excepting, perhaps, the presence of the fighting spirit that the coaches have been "looking for all season."

Bragan Hopes To Keep All Tribe Coaches

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' new manager, Bobby Bragan, said Tuesday he wants to keep all three Indian coaches—Eddie Stanky, Mel Harder and Red Kress.

Stanky, former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, took over the third base coaching job under Kerby Farrell's short regime. He said he'd be happy to return.

Harder and Kress, who pre-date Farrell in the Indian organization, also are expected to stay around.

Harder, who pitched 3 victories in 10 seasons for the Indians, became pitching coach in 1948.
Kress joined the club as coach in 1953 after a career as player and manager dating back to 1927.

Stanky was Farrell's candidate for the manager job, but General Manager Hank Greenberg said the only man he considered was Bragan.
Bragan said he will go through with his commitment to manage the Almedares club in the Cuban League this winter. The Cuban team has agreed to let him attend the U. S. baseball meetings in December, and to visit Cleveland early next year.

"I'm looking forward to seeing Cleveland," he said. "The closest I ever got was the airport. Cleveland stadium is the one big league park I've never been in."

Grambling College Tops in Offense

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A smashing ground attack in its opener gave Grambling, La., College the offensive leadership among football teams in the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics, NAIA statistics showed today.

Grambling rolled up 465 yards on the ground and 128 in the air for a total of 593.

Hanover, Ind., college dropped to second in total offense with an average of 446.2 in three games.

Southwestern Oklahoma boasts the best defensive mark, holding three foes to 53 yards, an average of 84.3 per game. Grambling is runnerup with 91 yards.

Enola, Ark., is not a backward place. Truth is the first pioneer there carved "Alone" on a board and it was read backwards.

Big Moments In Football Are Recalled

Editor's Note: Following is another in a series of articles recalling the one big moment which made a college football team great.

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Staff Writer
Plays that decide football games are not always the ones that produce a score.

In 1937 Pittsburgh struck deep into Nebraska territory on a maneuver which not only won the game but led to the national championship for the Panthers.

Though both entered the contest unbeaten, Pitt ruled a 5-1 favorite for a meeting which lured 71,267 to Pitt Stadium on Nov. 13.

Nebraska broke loose for a 6-yard touchdown run on a third period punt return with Harris Andrews handing off to Jack Dodd after he caught the ball. Lowell English converted for a 7-0 Cornhusker lead.

It stung Pitt into action. The Panthers drove 80 yards capped early in the fourth period by fullback Frank Patrick's yard smash into the end zone.

Pitt end Frank Souchak kicked true on his conversion attempt and an official automatically signaled it was good. But at the last moment the ball turned, struck and fell back.

The mighty Panthers were behind 7-6.

On Nebraska's second play following the kickoff, there was a fumble in the backfield and Pitt's Albin Lezouski recovered on the Cornhuskers' 34.

In the huddle, the play was called for wingback Harold Stebbins who at 195 pounds was the fastest man in the backfield.

All America tailback Marshall Goldberg took the pass from center as Nebraska defenders tried to adjust for an anticipated thrust to the strong side.

Instead, Goldberg fed Stebbins on the weakside reverse and the latter broke off right tackle for 22 yards before he could be hauled down on the Nebraska 12.

While the crowd chanted encouragement to the fired up Panthers, the visitors sagged from the impact of this sudden blow.

The touchdown was almost an anti-climax. Five plays later Bill Stapulis bulled over from the one and Souchak's conversion made the final count 13-7.

Unbeaten Pitt had no other troubles for the season outside its third straight scoreless tie with Fordham.

Browns Favored To Top Steelers

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns are expected to be in better physical condition to meet the Pittsburgh Steelers Saturday night than they were in when the bruising New York Giants came to town.

Guards Herschel Forester and Jim Smith both were in less than top shape when the Browns upset the Giants 6-3 Sunday.

Forester went into the game with a knee injury. Coach Paul E. Brown said the guard "gave a fine effort in spite of the injury.
In fact," he added, "the whole team went all out . . . it was a great effort."

The Browns, on the basis of their Giant-killing exploit, are our-point favorites against the Steelers.

American League To Refuse NL Grab of All Big Cities

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President
Chuck Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox said today the American League would grant the National League's return to New York in a swap for the right to enter Los Angeles and San Francisco when and if it chooses to do so.

"We're not going to let the National League take over in the two most lucrative West Coast cities and then return to New York too," said Comiskey, also an alternate on major league baseball's Executive Council.

"Let's face it," he said. "In 15 years there will be only three two-team towns—New York, Chicago and Los Angeles."

He said he had proposed the swap plan to the American League and that it had been supported.

Going into Tuesday's separate league meetings, the American already had proposed an amendment to the major league constitution which would divide New York into two baseball territories after transfer of the National League's New York and Brooklyn franchises to San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Only Brooklyn would remain open territory, shutting the National League out of the Bronx, Manhattan, Queens and Staten Island. Under Comiskey's compromise, the American League would also place Queens in the open classification. Queens is the only New York area looked upon as a feasible stadium site by city officials.

The two leagues, meeting in joint session with Commissioner Ford Frick, later unanimously supported a National League request to shelve any action in the matter until their December meeting "pending developments."

In a separate meeting, the National League owners:
1. Were advised the New York Giants had filed a formal letter of intent in their shift to San Francisco.

2. Gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a two-week extension, through Oct.
15, on the deadline for their final decision about moving to Los Angeles.

3. Changed their constitution to make only a three-fourths approval necessary for a franchise transfer, rather than the previous unanimous vote.

In Los Angeles, Harold McClellan, appointed to negotiate with the Dodgers, said the City Council is expected to approve an acceptable contract for Dodger consideration next Monday.

Things appeared to be rolling much more smoothly for the Giants. President Horace Stoneham announced he had reached

Pitt End Selected Lineman of Week

NEW YORK (AP)—With only 22

That achievement brought the man of the week award today in an Associated Press poll.

pounds, had raced into the end

OSU Grid Diet Due To Be Rough, Hard

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio State football coach Woody Hayes says he'll continue giving his team a steady diet of rough, hard football practice this week.

It was the Bucks' failure to really mix it up that contributed to Ohio State's 14-18 loss to Texas Christian University Saturday, says Hayes, and he's not taking any chances that the same thing will happen in the University of Washington game Saturday.

Tuesday, the Bucks put in two hours of tough practice, including some heavy defensive drills. A weak defense also contributed to the Buckeyes' loss to TCU.

But, in Basilio's case, "out of consideration for his past reputation as a boxer of integrity and courage," Sady said the NBA gave him 10 days to make up his mind. The 10-day period expired today with no word from Basilio.

Two picked teams were in formation over the ball and the quarterback was calling signals.

"They know the fundamentals pretty well now," Domenico said and added: "Now we want them to work like a football team." He explained:

"When they block, they should block hard. When they run, they should run hard. When they tackle, they should tackle hard and clear."

That's the way, the whole afternoon practice went. Boys, for example, would go diving into a tackling dummy, hitting it as if they meant to tear it loose—only to be called back and told to try again, harder.

Offense and defense both got a workout at the Tuesday practice session, with passing plays sprinkled in throughout. Domenico and Assistant Coach Marvin Merritt kept after the boys all the way to do things better and harder.

Buddy Lynch worked out in the quarterback slot for quite a while during the session—indicating the coaching staff may be planning to use him a good deal in the Greenfield game Friday night.

First-string quarterback Chuck Hise did the rest of the work in the quarter position.

Actu ally, freshman Mike 'hakers spent more time in the quarterback slot during the Little Miami game than either Hise, Lynch or John Campbell. But Domenico indicated he'll probably count on the Hise-Lynch duo on the tougher South Central Ohio League opener this Friday.

Halfback Bill Herman, one of the hardest workers in the Lion backfield, dropped out of practice early with a sore knee, but indications were he'd be back on duty by Wednesday night.

Other than that, changes were not too noticeable—excepting, perhaps, the presence of the fighting spirit that the coaches have been "looking for all season."

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' new manager, Bobby Bragan, said Tuesday he wants to keep all three Indian coaches—Eddie Stanky, Mel Harder and Red Kress.

Stanky, former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, took over the third base coaching job under Kerby Farrell's short regime. He said he'd be happy to return.

Harder and Kress, who pre-date Farrell in the Indian organization, also are expected to stay around.

Harder, who pitched 3 victories in 10 seasons for the Indians, became pitching coach in 1948. Kress joined the club as coach in 1953 after a career as player and manager dating back to 1927.

Stanky was Farrell's candidate for the manager job, but General Manager Hank Greenberg said the only man he considered was Bragan. Bragan said he will go through with his commitment to manage the Almedares club in the Cuban League this winter. The Cuban team has agreed to let him attend the U. S. baseball meetings in December, and to visit Cleveland early next year.

"I'm looking forward to seeing Cleveland," he said. "The closest I ever got was the airport. Cleveland stadium is the one big league park I've never been in."

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ted Kluszewski, whose aching back caused his slugging reputation to fade, figures he could have played regularly in more games this season for the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Big Klu, 33, said Tuesday night that there was "no more pain in my back this season than in 1956."

He said he was naturally disappointed that he was not used more often, but said, "selection of players is up to the manager."

Kluszewski appeared in only 69 games this season, often as a pinchhitter, and batted .268, with six home runs, 21 runs batted in.

Last year, when his back first began to bother him, he played in 138 games, batting .02 with 102 runs batted in and 35 homers.

Specialists earlier this year diagnosed the big slugger's ailment as a slipped spinal disc, but differed on whether he should have an operation.

He finally decided against surgery, figuring he could bear the pain.

Klu said Tuesday night he will probably confer with physicians again but said: "The exact nature of the consultations I cannot disclose for the simple reason I'm not thinking about it seriously at the moment."

Big Moments In Football Are Recalled

Editor's Note: Following is another in a series of articles recalling the one big moment which made a college football team great.

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Staff Writer

Plays that decide football games are not always the ones that produce a score.

In 1937 Pittsburgh struck deep into Nebraska territory on a maneuver which not only won the game but led to the national championship for the Panthers.

Though both entered the contest unbeaten, Pitt ruled a 5-1 favorite for a meeting which lured 71,267 to Pitt Stadium on Nov. 13.

Nebraska broke loose for a 6-yard touchdown run on a third period punt return with Harris Andrews handing off to Jack Dodd after he caught the ball. Lowell English converted for a 7-0 Cornhusker lead.

It stung Pitt into action. The Panthers drove 80 yards capped early in the fourth period by fullback Frank Patrick's yard smash into the end zone.

Pitt end Frank Souchak kicked true on his conversion attempt and an official automatically signalled it was good. But at the last moment the ball turned, struck and fell back.

The mighty Panthers were behind 7-6.

On Nebraska's second play following the kickoff, there was a fumble in the backfield and Pitt's Albin Lezouski recovered on the Cornhuskers' 34.

In the huddle, the play was called for wingback Harold Stebbins who at 195 pounds was the fastest man in the backfield.

All America tailback Marshall Goldberg took the pass from center as Nebraska defenders tried to adjust for an anticipated thrust to the strong side.

Instead, Goldberg fed Stebbins on the weakside reverse and the latter broke off right tackle for 22 yards before he could be hauled down on the Nebraska 12.

While the crowd chanted encouragement to the fired up Panthers, the visitors sagged from the impact of this sudden blow.

The touchdown was almost an anti-climax. Five plays later Bill Stupulis bulled over from the one and Souchak's conversion made the final count 13-7.

Unbeaten Pitt had no other troubles for the season outside its third straight scoreless tie with Fordham.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns are expected to be in better physical condition to meet the Pittsburgh Steelers Saturday night than they were in when the bruising New York Giants came to town.

Guards Herschel Forester and Jim Smith both were in less than top shape when the Browns upset the Giants 6-3 Sunday.

Forester went into the game with a knee injury. Coach Paul E. Brown said the guard "gave a fine effort in spite of the injury. In fact," he added, "the whole team went all out . . . it was a great effort."

The Browns, on the basis of their Giant-killing exploit, are our-point favorites against the Steelers.

Grambling College Tops in Offense

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A smashing ground attack in its opener gave Grambling, La., College the offensive leadership among football teams in the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics, NAIA statistics showed today.

Grambling rolled up 465 yards on the ground and 128 in the air for a total of 593.

Hanover, Ind., college dropped to second in total offense with an average of 446.2 in three games.

Southwestern Oklahoma boasts the best defensive mark, holding three foes to 53 yards, an average of 84.3 per game. Grambling is runnerup with 91 yards.

Enola, Ark., is not a backward place. Truth is the first pioneer there carved "Alone" on a board and it was read backwards.

$22 Million Paid Out In Ohio Korean Bonus

COLUMBUS (AP)—Checks for $22,184,000 have gone out to 89,430 Ohio veterans of the Korean War, bonus director Chester W. Goble reported Monday. Checks averaged $248.06.

Lack of information on claimants has caused most of the delays, he said. Applicants with claim numbers below 155,000 who have not received their bonus checks can be reasonably certain that more information is needed before their claims can be paid.

$22 Million Paid Out In Ohio Korean Bonus

COLUMBUS (AP)—Checks for $22,184,000 have gone out to 89,430 Ohio veterans of the Korean War, bonus director Chester W. Goble reported Monday. Checks averaged $248.06.

Lack of information on claimants has caused most of the delays, he said. Applicants with

claim numbers below 155,000 who have not received their bonus checks can be reasonably certain that more information is needed before their claims can be paid.

Convict's Appeal Request Denied by District Court

A Clinton County man who sought to change his plea in a Fayette County criminal case two years after he had begun a sentence in the Ohio Penitentiary for the crime has been denied a hearing in the Second District Court of Appeals.

Pork Producers Plan 2 Events

Dates Set for Tour And Annual Meeting

Plans for the annual swine tour and the annual banquet were made by directors of the Fayette County Pork Producers Assn. at their meeting Tuesday night at Anderson's Drive-In Restaurant.

The swine tour was set for the first week in December and Lewis Redd, Kenneth Miller, E. E. Jenks and Joe Fisher were appointed on the committee in charge. Redd is the chairman.

The tour probably will include visits to three or four of the county's top hog farms, lunch at noon and an afternoon meeting with a swine specialist as the speaker.

THE ANNUAL meeting of all the members of the association will be Jan. 13, 1958, at the Farm Bureau auditorium. The committee in charge will be Leland Dorn, chairman, Loren Green, Raymond Bishop and Dr. James McCoy.

The committee, in planning the meeting, has already secured Wilbur Bruner, marketing specialist, Ohio State University, who will show slides and talk on the swine tour this summer in England and Europe.

The All Ohio Pork Picnic, which was held here Sept. 14, sponsored by the Pork Producers Assn. of Fayette County and the Ohio Commercial Swine Producers Assn., was reviewed by the committee chairmen. Some 12 different committees worked out the plans for the picnic and carried them through to success.

Reports of the menu committee showed that a total of 835 meals were served and that 832 tickets were sold. Estimated attendance for the day was "well over 1,000."

LETTERS were read from the winners in the Pork Queen contest, thanking the directors and the association for their prizes. Miss Gloria Cleland, of Fayette County, All Ohio Pork Queen, will represent the county and state at the International Livestock Show in Chicago in December.

Miss Cleland already has made a number of appearances before groups in the county and will continue to represent the pork interests at a number of meetings this winter. Among these already attended was the International Plowing Matches at Peebles.

Harry Craig and A. R. Rankin, directors on the Ohio Commercial Swine Producers Assn. will attend a meeting of this state-wide group in Columbus Oct. 9.

The next regular meeting of the association directors here will be Nov. 5.

4-H Members Get Recognition At Cherry Hill

Supt. Smith Outlines Status of Building Program

The first meeting of the 1957-58 year for Cherry Hill Parent-Teachers Assn. in the school Tuesday evening. A year book listing future programs, committees and officers was given each member on entering.

Mrs. Chaires Sheridan, president, opened the meeting with a unison prayer and then group singing was led by Mrs. Ralph Child. Mrs. John Rhoads accompanied at the piano.

Mrs. Byers Shaw gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Walter Parsley's first grade class won the attendance banner with 21 parents present.

The first half of the meeting honored the 4-H clubs in the school. Pamela Rhoads presented the Magic Makers and gave a resume of their work and accomplishments during last year. Mrs. Joe Loudner, leader of the Pixies, introduced her group and outlined their activities. In the absence of Mrs. Robert Brubaker, leader of the Cookie Cutters, that group was presented by Phil Grover, associate county agent, who then presented achievement awards and checks to members of all three clubs.

MRS. SHERIDAN asked for suggestions for showing appropriate recognition to the boys of the safety patrol. Mrs. Earl Miller was appointed to plan three outings for them during the coming year.

Principal Earl Miller introduced the teachers of Cherry Hill School to the parents and then presented W. A. Smith, superintendent of the city schools, who was main speaker of the evening.

Smith spoke of the progress being made in the building program and expressed the hope that eventually a separate building for junior and senior high school students may be built.

He also spoke of the textbook situation, explaining that books of the same series are now being chosen for both junior and senior high school students, thus insuring the student's complete education. After Smith's talk the meeting was turned over to the social committee for the serving of coffee and donuts from a table centered with fall flowers.

Driver Is Fined On DWI Court After Collision

A New Holland area man was found guilty in Municipal Court Monday of drunken driving and failure to stop within an assured clear distance. Both charges were filed by Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Mickle after an accident on Route 22 near New Holland about 10 p. m. Tuesday.

Fined $200 and costs on the DWI count was David Johnson, 34, of Route 2, New Holland. He was given a suspended $10 fine on the other charge. His driving rights also were suspended for a year and he was sentenced to three days in jail.

Johnson pleaded guilty to failure to stop within an assured clear distance, but entered a plea of innocent to the drunk driving charge. He was found guilty by Judge Max G. Dice.

The mishap occurred at a narrow bridge about two miles west of New Holland when Thomas E.

Washington C. H. Lioness Club Is Told about Speech Therapy

Speech problems are approached from the psychological and emotional as well as those of physical mechanics, Dr. Sheila G. Morrison told members of the

DR. SHEILA G. MORRISON

Washington C. H. Lioness club at their dinner meeting at the Country Club Tuesday night.

Dr. Morrison is a member of the staff of the speech department of Ohio State University as assistant professor and is supervisor of the out-patient service of the Speech and Hearing Clinic. She received her bachelor's degree in 1945 and her master's degree in 1947 from Ohio University and her doctor's degree in speech from Ohio State in 1951. She taught four years in the University of Florida and was on the faculty of the University of Texas in 1950.

Inasmuch as speech problems involve a great deal more than the mere mechanics of speaking, Dr. Morrison said the requirements for a speech therapist are very rigid. This, she explained, protects the public from incompetent workers and assures those who come to the clinic for help that their problems will be approached also from the psychological and emotional angles.

THE CLINIC, she said, serves people of all ages, from pre-school children to adults up to 80 years old. Some of them, she explained, are born with articulation defects and other are the victims of injury or disease which affect speech and hearing.

Dr. Morrison spoke with deep concern for the emotional problems which she said inevitably go with a person's inability to communicate with those around him. This, she said, includes both those who have lost their speech as well as what she described as "problem children."

Defense Wins Directed Verdict In Damage Suit

Jury trial of a Common Pleas Court action asking $300 judgment in connection with an automobile accident came to abrupt halt Monday afternoon when Judge John P. Case granted a defense motion and directed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant.

Robert Lee Wade, 713 North St., and the General Exchange Insurance Co. had requested the judgment against Laura Bell Knisley, Hillsboro, as the aftermath of an accident at the intersection of Broadway and North Sts. on Aug. 10, 1956.

In directing the verdict, Judge Case ruled that evidence submitted showed that Wade was guilty of contributory negligence which could have caused the damage for which the plaintiffs sought compensation. In such cases a directed verdict is mandatory under a Supreme Court decision.

Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of the Independence, was also a song writer.

Convict's Appeal Request Denied by District Court

A Clinton County man who sought to change his plea in a Fayette County criminal case two years after he had begun a sentence in the Ohio Penitentiary for the crime has been denied a hearing in the Second District Court of Appeals.

The appellant, Everett Cartwright, had asked leave to appeal the decision of Judge John P. Case who refused to allow Cartwright, now at the Marion Training Institute, to withdraw his plea of guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent and to substitute a plea of not guilty.

Cartwright made the request two years after he had started a prison sentence of one to 20 years, imposed after he had pleaded guilty to the offense.

The appeal notice had charged that Judge Case abused his discretion in denying the change of plea.

The first meeting of the 1957-58 year for Cherry Hill Parent-Teachers Assn. in the school Tuesday evening. A year book listing future programs, committees and officers was given each member on entering.

Mrs. Chalmers Sheridan, president, opened the meeting with a union prayer and then group singing was led by Mrs. Ralph Child, Mrs. John Rhoads accompanied at the piano.

Mrs. Byers Shaw gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Walter Parsley's first grade class won the attendance banner with 21 parents present.

The first half of the meeting honored the 4-H clubs in the school. Pamela Rhoads represented the Magic Makers and gave a resume of their work and accomplishments during last year.

Joe Loudner, leader of the Pixies, introduced her group and outlined their activities. In the absence of Mrs. Robert Brubaker, leader of the Cookie Cutters, that group was presented by Phil Grover, associate county agent, who then presented achievement awards and checks to members of all three clubs.

MRS. SHERIDAN asked for suggestions for showing appropriate recognition to the boys of the safety patrol. Mrs. Earl Miller was appointed to plan three outings for them during the coming year.

Principal Earl Miller introduced the teachers of Cherry Hill School to the parents and then presented W. A. Smith, superintendent of the city schools, who was main speaker of the evening.

Smith spoke of the progress being made in the building program and expressed the hope that eventually a separate building for junior and senior high school students may be built.

He also spoke of the textbook situation, explaining that books of the same series are now being chosen for both junior and senior high school students, thus insuring the student's complete education.

After Smith's talk the meeting was turned over to the social committee for the serving of coffee and donuts from a table centered with fall flowers.

Dr. Morrison spoke with deep concern for the emotional problems which she said inevitably go with a person's inability to communicate with those around him. This, she said, includes both those who have lost their speech as well as what she described as "problem children."

She described the Lost Chord Club, a group of those whose vocal chords have been removed and have to learn to speak through entirely different methods. "Very valiant efforts are necessary for them to produce even one intelligible sound," she said.

Mothers among the Lionesses expressed particular interest in learning the approach used with children of different ages.

At the conclusion of her talk, Dr. Morrison answered questions, for more than half an hour.

Mrs. D. R. Junk, president, conducted the brief business meeting, following the invocation by Mrs. Robert Wise.

Mrs. M. H. Reiff was a guest at the meeting.

On the committee were Mrs. Joe White, chairman, Mrs. Paul Rodenfeis, Mrs. Eddie McCoy and Mrs. Wise.

Washington C. H. Lioness Club Is Told about Speech Therapy

Speech problems are approached from the psychological and emotional aspects as well as those of physical mechanics, Dr. Sheila G. Morrison told members of the

DR. SHEILA G. MORRISON

Washington C. H. Lioness club at their dinner meeting at the Country Club Tuesday night.

Dr. Morrison is a member of the staff of the speech department of Ohio State University as assistant professor and is supervisor of the outpatient service of the Speech and Hearing Clinic. She received her bachelor's degree in 1945 and her master's degree in 1947 from Ohio University and her doctor's degree in speech from Ohio State in 1955. Before going to Ohio State in 1951, she taught four years in the University of Florida and was on the faculty of the University of Texas in 1950.

Inasmuch as speech problems involve a great deal more than the mere mechanics of speaking, Dr. Morrison said the requirements for a speech therapist are very rigid. This, she explained, protects the public from incompetent workers and assures those who come to the clinic for help that their problems will be approached also from the psychological and emotional angles.

THE CLINIC, she said, serves people of all ages, from pre-school children to adults up to 80 years old. Some of them, she explained, are born with articulation defects and other are the victims of injury or disease which affect speech and hearing.

Defense Wins Directed Verdict In Damage Suit

Jury trial of a Common Pleas Court action asking $300 judgment in connection with an automobile accident came to abrupt halt Monday afternoon when Judge John P. Case granted a defense motion and directed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant.

Robert Lee Wade, 713 North St., and the General Exchange Insurance Co. had requested the judgment against Laura Bell Knisley, Hillsboro, as the aftermath of an accident at the intersection of Broadway and North Sts. on Aug. 10, 1956.

In directing the verdict, Judge Case ruled that evidence submitted showed that Wade was guilty of contributory negligence which could have caused the damage for which the plaintiffs sought compensation. In such cases a directed verdict is mandatory under a Supreme Court decision.

Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of the Independence, was also a song writer.
